MENLO-ATHERTON GYMNASIUM NEARS COMPLETION

Lots of Room For Exercise— And Low Upkeep

Soon to be put into use by Menlo-Atherton high school's 1750 students is the newest educational unit to be built by the Sequoia High School District—the $377,500 combined gymnasium - swimming pool unit which faces the school's Ringwood avenue frontage.

It's a spectacular edifice. But what makes it even more spectacular is the amount of space which has been made available for the money. And, too, the advanced design which is a feature of the combined units will pay in the long run. For the buildings, which will last indefinitely, are also designed so that maintenance costs will be low.

Though spectacular, the gym and pool and the auxiliary units which form other parts of the building project are not "frills" in the sense that they provide space for educational programs of doubtful value.

The state requires that physical education training be taken daily in high schools and with good reason: the development of sound bodies and ideas of sportsmanship, along with such skills as swimming, are as important a part of a well-rounded education as any other part of the curriculum.

Janssen, Daseking and Keller of Menlo Park were architects for the unit.

The gym, as the rest of Menlo-Atherton high school, is constructed of tinted Calstone. This means that painting will never be necessary, according to the architects, and the cost of painting a high school can be a big one.

EFFICIENT CONSTRUCTION

The main auditorium of the gymnasium, close to the parking lot off Ringwood, makes use of the most modern engineering practices, in order that a sufficiency of clear space be available indoors.

Spanning the 102-by-137-foot auditorium at intervals are arches which are wider at the top than they are at the bottom; too; they are slanted outward from the building's walls, as can be seen when one drives by the new building.

Architect Walter Keller, one of those who drew the plans for the structure, explains that this system was used to give as much uncluttered interior space as possible.

Strongest portions of the arches ahe the "knees" where they turn from the walls toward the center of the roof; advantage of the arch, apparently, is to giva a longer span than would be possible with traditional higher arches.

All walls of the new unit are, actually, solid, Keller explains that the Calstone blocks eight inches thick on side walls and 12 inches thick at the ends of the gym—have been laced together with structural steel and concrete has then been poured in to make solid walls.

In the one rectangular main room of the gym, there is space for one regulation competition basketball court or two practice courts or, cut another way, eight badminton courts. If physical education instructors desire to make use of other facilities, there are arrangements for a boxing ring and other installations.

NO BLEACHERS YET

Space for bleachers has been provided but the seats have not been installed; spectator sports being considered secondary to the purpose of physical education.

The gymnasium has no windows. All light is through skylights of specially-tinted glass which keep the building's interior cool, at the same time admitting light which the Recorder photographer's meter found to be about one-eighth as strong as daylight outside.

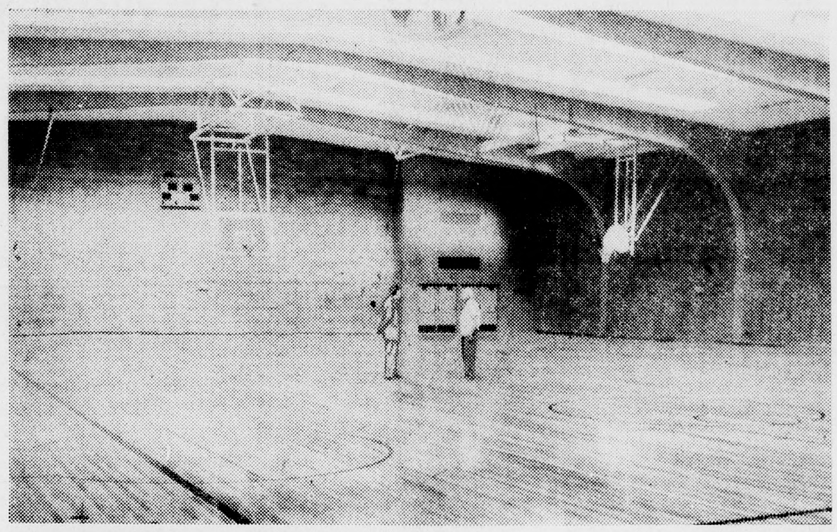

Turn now to the swimming pool. It's regulation AAU size, 42 by 75 feet, with a large shallow-end area for teaching.

Decks of the pool, too, are extra spacious for ease in instruction, and seats to accommodate 390 spectators have been built. Construction here, too, has been kept economical; the seats are of standard-size, pre-cast concrete slab construction.

The pool and bleachers have already been put into use not only by high school students, but by the students in the adult evening school. It can be used well into the winter months because it is heated.

The idea that the gym-pool plant may be too big for the school re-

Chamber Plans Directory Of Businesses

A classified directory of business and professional services available through members of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce is currently in the works, it was announced in the wake of the C of C directors' Tuesday morning meeting.

The Chamber currently has more than 250 members in business in the city, Chamber of Commerce Secretary - Manager Gene Hammond explains. In addition to the classified section of the directory, there will be alphabetical listings of member firms and individuals.

Front section of the document will be devoted to facts and figures about Menlo Park, a listing of city services, and other data.

An initial publication run of 1000 copies is planned; the document will be circulated to all members of the Chamber of Commerce and to new residents in the community.

Cost of the publication is allowed for in the Chambers' current annual budget.

Tyro Driver Gets Into First Mishap

Autos driven by Margaret S. Reilly, 22, Emeryville woman who told officers she had only four months' driving experience and Norman S. Snyder, 32, of 197 Oak Grove avenue, collided at Oak Grove and El Camino Real Sunday noon, police report.

According to officers, the accident occurred as Miss Reilly attempted a left turn from the highway's southbound lanes and, cutting further left than anticipated to avoid entanglement with a northbound truck, struck the parked, westbound car operated by Snyder.

The woman was cited for not having her driver's license in her possession at the time of the accident.

Local Jaycees Draw Big Names

Menlo-Atherton Junior Chamber of Commerce, in cooperation with other Peninsula Jaycee groups, is sponsoring a reception and dinner honoring the national president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Nov. 10 at Rickey's.

Governor Goodwin J. Knight and "Miss America" will both be there.

Tickets are available at the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce office, 717 Oak Grove avenue.

Bke-Auto Crash Injures Boy, 7

A 7-year-old bicyclist required five stitches to close a wound in his scalp Sunday, after his vehicle became entangled with an auto at Central and Gilbert avenues Sunday, police report.

The boy's auto was involved with a car driven by John R. Kirschner, 18, of Palo Alto. Kirschner's auto was headed south on Gilbert street at the time of the crash, which was sufficiently hard to knock the front wheel and fender from the bike.

Flood Park Joins District

San Mateo county board of supervisors Tuesday passed a resolution okaying the annexation of Flood park to the Menlo Park Fire District.

The park has been surrounded by the fire district for many years; however, it has always been county territory and was never previously affiliated with the local agency.

$500 Fire Occurs In Atherton Home

Menlo Park Fire District firemen Saturday evening extinguished a blaze at a gardeners's cottage at the A. K. Irving estate, 52 Tuscaloose avenue, Atherton. The cottage was occupied by David Ferraria. Damage was estimated at $500.

According to firemen, the blaze started in the cottage's bedroom and was probably started from an electric heater. A mattress and bedding were burned and a wall was scorched, accounting for the damage.

Free Chest X-rays Slated Here Monday

Residents of Menlo Park have an opportunity to take free chest x-rays when the "Chestmobile" operated by the San Mateo county Tuberculosis and Health association, will be at 640 Santa Cruz avenue Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 25 and 26.

Hours each day will be from 12 noon to 7 p. m.

Menlo School and College students were x-rayed yesterday, Oct. 20, and juniors and seniors at Menlo-Atherton high school receive free chest x-rays today and Friday.

Volunteer hostesses for the x-ray truck in this public program, on Oct. 25 and 26, are under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Sultan of Atherton, member of the board of directors of the county association.

FOR QUEEN

CANDIDATE—One of 18 candidates for Homecoming Queen at San Mateo college is Carla Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Jones of 800 Ringwood avenue, Menlo Park. A graduate of Menlo-Atherton high school, Carla is a freshman at the college. Final selection of the homecoming queen will be made Oct. 29. Both of the Menlo Park girl's parents are alumni of San Mateo.

Citizens' School Study Group Adopts By-Laws

Citizens' Council for the Menlo Park Elementary School District got its formal organization underway Monday night, adopting by-laws and naming seven patrons of the school district to nominate officers for the group.

The officers will be passed on by the membership at large, at a meet scheduled for 8 p. m. Nov. 1 at Central school. This will be the final step preliminary to getting the citizens' group's study of school district problems underway.

But while starting moving rapidly to organize, the group may have cut its ability to effectively campaign for a bond issue or whatever other measures it might wish to recommend to the school district's board of trustees and residents of the district at large.

It did this by limiting dues to $1 per year per person and calling for approval, by the council as a whole, of any expenditure over $50. Further, the citizens' council's executive committee will not be able to spend money not on hand at the time the expenditure is proposed.

Members of the council, at their organization meeting, called for these steps to assure that the group would operate on a sound financial basis; the low dues measure came ae an amendment to suggested by-laws after the majority of those present agreed that this would attract the largest possible number of persons.

The by-laws, prepared by an organization committee which has been meeting during the past two weeks, originally called for setting of the dues figure by the executive committee.

TO REPORT NOV. 1

The nominating committee selected last night, which is to report on candidates for officerships of the group on Nov. 1, includes the following:

Merle Peterson, Mrs. John Shedd, Leonard Gross, Milton Monasch, Gordon Weber, Mrs. James R. Lee and William Felkner.

All of the members of the group have children in either Oak Knoll or Encinal school, with the exception of Felkner, who has children in Hillview and Fremont schools. Gross, appointed by temporary chairman of the group Lyle Cook, was named to head the nominating committee.

Cook opened the meeting by calling upon Mrs. Natalie Gross to read minutes of the previous meeting of the panel, at which organization was called for, pursuant to a recommendation by the school district board of trustees that the former School District Citizens committee "augment itself and apply itself to study of district problems."

Admiral C. Julian Wheeler, of the temporary membership-nominating committee, reported in behalf of Chairman Glenn Walters that more than 600 letters to residents, inviting their participation, had been sent out and that the cost of mailing, $13.64, had been advanced by Walters member and Mrs. Janet Tuffli.

There were approximately 60 persons present at the organization meeting.

Bulk of the meeting was concerned with suggested revisions of the proposed by-laws, with the resulting changes in rules regarding dues.

TELL PURPOSES

Those present also discussed the purpose of the committee, and agreed that it would not support any candidates.

A proposed amendment dealing with technicalities of recall was killed in vote from the floor.

Officers of the group are to consist of a chairman, vice chairman, secretary and treasurer and five executives-at-large, making an executive board of nine. Nominations for these posts are the ones to be considered at the Nov. 1 meeting.

Purpose of the group, as outlined in the by-laws, is:

"To provide a broadly based citizens' committee to study the schools of the Menlo Park Elementary School District in order to assist the Board of Trustees, the school administration, and the teachers to give the best possible mental, physical and social education to the children of the district;

"To sponsor and to conduct public forums regarding educational issues;

"To conduct thorough and impartial studies regarding the public schools with special reference to physicau plant, finances, curriculum and personnel;

"To make the findings known to the citizens of the district and to make recommendations thereon;

"To promote favorable action on the recommendations, based on established facts, to the end that the best educational opportunities for the district's boys and girls may be provided."

Next Week's Issue Offers:

A Good Time to Get Acquainted

Proclaimed by Mayor Charles P. Burgess, Get Acquainted Week will begin in the Menlo Park area next Thursday. As the proclamation states, the observance is designed as a time "to renew old friendships and to make new ones in an effort to strengthen the (friendly) spirit that always has characterized this community."

To open the event, next Thursday's issue of the Recorder will be the biggest ever published, containing, in one package, an outline of all the organizations that make this community what it is.

And the issue will contain, also, more than 400 cartoon sketches of the individuals who are leaders of our area's civic, social and business affairs!

You'll be sorry if you miss next week's whopping big, fun issue—the special "Get Acquainted" edition—of the Menlo Park Recorder!

Peninsula Leaders Attend:

Prudential Insurance Co. Building Here Officially Opens with Ceremonies Today

Business and civic leaders from throughout the Peninsula area are attending the formal opening of the new Northern alifornia regional office of the Prudential Insurance company real estate mortgage loan and investment department at Menlo Park today.

Ribbon cutting ceremonies marking the formal opening is to take place at noon at the site of the new structure at 8 Homewood place in the Linfield Oaks district.

Mayor Charles P. Burgess of Menlo Park and newly-elected presiden tof the League of California Cities; George Cleese Jr., president of Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce; Fred Cochran, president of Palo Alto Chamber of Commerce; Stephan Nogleberg, president of Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, headed delegations attending from the respective communities.

Willard M. Hansen, Northern California regional manager for Prudential, said today that the new unit will employ 150 people initially. Nearly 100 of these are new employees from the Peninsula area while the balance are transfers from San Francisco.

"The new regional office will service all of the local Prudential offices in Northen California and Nevada," Hansen said.

"We now have adequate facilities to accommodate a much larger amount of lending to help finance the high volume of construction which currently is at all time peak levels. We confidently expect to be able to loan more money in Northern California during 1955 than ever before."

The Menlo Park headquarters are the company's third largest mortgage loan facilities in the nation, exceeded only by Los Angeles and New York.

With 34 employees and $30,000,000 total loans in 1944, the Northern California facility has enjoyed remarkable growth. Loans in force are expected to exceed $171,000,000 this year. Loans approved in the bay area this year are already $5,500,000, more than the company's previous record for an entire 12-month period.

At the end of World War II, the local office serviced 2.5 per cent of the company's total loans. It presently has 6.2 per cent of the total in force account.

Burgess Elected President of Cities League

Election of Menlo Park's Mayor Charles P. Burgess to the post of president of the League of California Cities was confirmed in wire service reports received here yesterday from Los Angeles.

Menlo Park's delegation to the League of California Cities' convention in Los Angeles was to return from the southern metropolis today, presumably with Mayor Charles P. Burgess safely elected president of the organization.

The city's delegation to the affair numbered 14; from the Menlo Park Fire District Chief Thomas F. Cuff, himself immediate past president of the Fire Chiefs' division of the organization and currently a member of its nominating committee, was in attandance.

Besides Burgess, the four other members of the council attended; Arthur Cobbledick, Michael Belangie, George Ford and William R. Lawson.

Administrators who attended from the city included City Manager C. L. Longson, administrative assistant John R. Johnson, Police Chief George Potter, Recreation department head Fred Parsons, Building Inspector James Steiger, and City Attorney James T. O'Keefe Jr.

Three members of the planning commission—Ira Bonde, Vaile Andrus and Perry West—also attended.

Tuesday Bad Day for Autos

Three minor accidents occurred on Menlo Park streets Tuesday, police report.

Involved in the first accident, which occurred at 7:15 a. m. at El Camino Real and Santa Cruz, were autos driven by Arthur Hackenberger, 50, Redwood City, and William J. Steffen Jr., 23, of Mountain View.

The other two accidents ccurred at Ravenswood avenue and Merrill street.

The first one, at 5:10 p. m., involved autos driven by David E. Oden, 20, of Stanford Village and Ada Ramsay Mattison, 33, of 7 William court.

Third mishap occurred just an hour later. Involved were autos of John P. Falchi, 18, of Stanford university and Charles P. Costello, 22, of Palo Alto.

Nobody was hurt, no citations were issued, and only auto damaged seriously enough to require towing was Mrs. Mattison's.

Minor Accident At Orange-Avy

Autos driven by Gary A. M. Richardson, 17, of 2250 Menalto avenue, Menlo Park, and Edward James Treece Jr., 18, of Los Altos collided at Avy and Orange avenues at the western city limits late last Friday evening, police report.

There were no injuries in the accident, and both vehicles were driven from the scene.

CAKE SALE SUNDAY

St. Raymond's Ladies Sodality will hold a cake and apron sale next Sunday, Oct. 24, after all the Masses. Proceeds are to help our Christmas charity. Mrs. Anne Dougherty is chairman of the cakes and Mrs. Jane Merryman is chairman of the apron sale.

Council Slams Army Again On Armory Site

Menlo Park city council this week slammed the US department of the army for ". . . negative action which, at best, can be described as dilatory . . ." in regard to giving up plans for an armory in the Stanford Village area.

In a strongly-worded resolution authorized at the council's regular meeting last week and released by City Clerk Margaret A. Becker late yesterday, the council reaffirmed its position of last July:

That the army's continued occupation of the Stanford Village area, and the projected placement of an armory there, was a "violation of states' rights at a municipal level," and an unfair hardship on the city's taxpayers in that, since closing of Dibble hospital there in 1946, the government has kept title to the land and therefore kept it off the tax rolls.

The city's resolution was forwarded to Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Randy Haskell Hamilton, American Municipal association representative in Washington who has been attempting to get the land released by sale to Stanford university.

The council's resolution reads in part:

"And, Whereas, no action has been taken with respect to the said Resolution number 1113 (the one previously cited—ed.) and the protests therein contained, by the department of the army . . . other than a negative action which, at best, can be described as dilatory:

"And, whereas, it has been ascertained . . . that, during the course of the dilatory action of the department of the army, a procedure which cannot and it not approved by this city council in its protection of the citizens and residents of this city, the title of the real property upon which it is proposed to construct said armory has surreptitiously, as far as this council is concerned, been conveyed from the department of government previously holding title, to the department of defense . . .

REAFFIRMATION

"Now therefore be it resolved that the city council does reaffirm its protest . . .

"Be it further resolved . . . that demand be made forthwith upon the department of the army to take such action as is required to sustain the protests of this city in connection with this matter . . . and if a meeting and site examination are required to approve the position of the city of Menlo Park in said matter, that the same be accomplished by a governmental official . . ."

Meanwhile, joining the city council, the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce this week sent a letter to Secretary Stevens, expressing "serious concern over the lack of action" taken thus far.

Copies of the C of C missive, in addition to being forwarded to Stevens and Hamilton, have been forwarded to Senators William Knowland and Thomas Kuchel, Representative J. Arthur Younger, the Menlo-Atherton board of Realtors, the US Chamber of Commerce and the California state Chamber of Commerce.

Meanwhile, it was last week reported that federal appraisers, who have been reviewing Stanford Village with an eye to its possible sale to Stanford university, are scheduled to complete their work.

Dwight Adams, Stanford executive who is in charge of the project to get ahold of the property, last week said that he had not yet been informed of any findings.

Planners to Study Menlo-Atherton Building Proposals

Atherton planning commission, in a special meeting scheduled for 7 p. m. Monday at the Atherton town hall, will discuss the Sequoia high school district's application for a use permit for a proposed new classroom building at Menlo-Atherton high school.

The special meeting was called by W. B. Tyler, chairman

Planners hope, said Tyler, that the high school district will bring forth site plans and other drawings, for the consideration of the planners. Last week, when Sequoia district requested approval of their drawings, but submitted none and had no representative at the meeting.

The Atherton planners hope to have a recommendation ready to submit to the council at the 8 p. m. start of the latter body's meeting.

UNITED CRUSADERS CONFER

CANVASS UNDERWAY—As residential area canvassing for the United Crusade got underway late last week, executives of the drive got together in various parts of the city to work on plans which will enable workers to visit every house in Menlo Park in the annnal drive for funds . Above, left to right, Mrs. Rudolph Stack, chairman of area 2 confers with Mrs. Mark O'Leary and Mrs. Richard Bridges on plans for the solicitation in eastern Menlo Park.

Lowe Honored As Realtor, Friend of Youth

Floyd Lowe of Atherton, area real estate developer and a long-time worker for the benefit of the youth of the community, last week garnered honors for his efforts in behalf of both real estate work and young people.

The first award was the Silver Beaver, presented by the Boy Scouts of America, in recognition of Lowe's long-time, devoted and outstanding service to the movement. Lowe has been associated with the Scouts' Stanford area council, which comprises Palo Alto, Los Altos and Stanford.

The other award was in the form of professional recognition, and came with Lowe's election to the presidency of the California Real Estate association, at the group's annual convention in San Francisco. His elevation to the post was announced Friday, at the close of the session at the Palace hotel.

The first Peninsulan to be elected president of the statewide body, Lowe is already an honorary director of the group, and has served two terms as a regional vice president. He was general chairman for the convention.

Lowe is a past president of the Palo Alto real estate board, in which city he also maintains offices. He was also a charter member of the Menlo-Atherton Real Estate Board.

Besides his professional and Scout activities, Lowe, who resides at 45 Frederick avenue, Atherton, is a member of the Sequoia high school district board of trustees.

His family includes his wife and two children.

New Citizens Panel to Form in Las Lomitas, Present New Ideas on Building Program

Las Lomitas School District voters are currently awaiting reorganization of the district citizens' advisory committee, which is to bring in new proposals as to how, and where, the district should attempt to get more classrooms.

The committee is to be reorganized by Nov. 4; its recommendations are to be returned by Dec. 1.

This was decided last Friday night at a "where do we go from here" meeting of the Las Lomitas school district trustees, which saw Malcolm Paterson, chairman of the Association of Taxpayers of the district reaffirm his group's offer to work for passage of a bond issue if proposed new school facilities were situated in the northern part of the school district, rather than at Ladera.

Paterson's group was a major one opposing the Oct. 8, $137,000 measure, which failed to pass by a 35-vote margin.

Currently, school district citizens' committee organizers are attempting to get new members of the group and are trying to get a good cross-section of district parents, in regard to occupation and location of residence.

EVERYBODY WELCOME

School District Board Chairman Jack Robertson, however, reminds residents that all interested persons are welcome to serve on the committee.

Whether the group would seek to work out a new set of figures to support recommendations for a new bond issue, or whether it would merely concentrate on bringing figures of last year's citizens' committee up to date, was not immediately known.

Meanwhile, in a three-page letter read to the school district trustees, Paterson observed:

"The result of the Los Lomitas School District bond issue election on Oct. 8 indicates that a revision in the planned spending of such proposed funds is advisable. We believe the voters have indicated that they want the necessary facilities, but want them to be built closer to the center of school population.

"The association of taxpayers, Las Lomitas School District, has resolved to endorse and support fully a new bond issue which has as its primary consideration the best interests of the majority of the existing children and parents in the district, and which is consistent with the practical expenditure of both local and state tax funds."

The missive asks that trustees give "serious consideration" to:

1. The purchase of land adjacent to the present Las Lomitas school, so that it may be built to greater size;

2. Make arrangements to reserve school sites which will be needed in the next 10 years;

3. Allow Ladera school to remain "as is" in regard to size; that is ,to keep it at its present 400 capacity, until a third school is completed somewhere in the district.

The letter then goes on to reiterate the taxpayers' group's original stand: That Ladera school is "overbuilt" in comparison with the rest of the school district.

It also asks that proposed expenditures of funds asked in a future election eb stipulated on the ballot.

Scouts of Troop 333 Face Review Board

Boy Scouts of Belle Haven Troop 333 are currently preparing to meet a board of review Oct. 25, in preparation for a district board of review to be held Oct. 28. The Scouts, many of whom have passed advancement requirements, recently passed more of them on a camp-out at San Mateo county Memorial park.

Meanwhile, troop officers announced, Saturday night will be "fun night" for members, with a dance scheduled for Belle Haven school multi-use room. It was also announced that the troop's regular paper pick-up has been postponed one week, and will next be held Nov. 6 and 7.

The recent camp-out saw candidates for advancement working on such field problems as trailing, map sketching and fire-building, as wel las other problems which cannot be worked on in regular troop meetings.

Those who took part in the recent camp-out include:

Mike Bailey, Jimmy Booth, Bill Christian, Gary Clark, David Cooper, Russell Duval, Steven Duval, Boyce Floyd, Gary Fosnaugh, Phillip Giebel, Norman Franklin, Lester Grimes, Elroy Holtmann, Larry Johnson, Robert Jones, Detley Lang, Walter Mullen, Paul Newman, Jerry Ross, Edmond Schulz, Hugh Smith, Gordon Mace, Frank Sullivan, Robert Winfree.

Parent leadership and transportation was provided by Scoutmaster Tom Mullen, Assistant Scoutmaster Earl Holtmann, James Booth, James Franklin, Henry Giebel, Lester Grimes and M. A. Ross.

Pack 39 Cubs Meet Friday

First meeting of the new year of Cub Scout pack 39, sponsored by St. Raymond's parish, will be held tomorrow evening, Oct. 22, at the green room at the city council chambers building, Menlo Park civic center. Beginning time is 7:15 p. m.

All parents as well as "old-time" members of the pack and prospective new Bobcats are invited to attend, Bob Boeddiker, new Cubmaster for the year, will preside.

Members of the Pack committee and other adults associated with the group thank Bill Muller, who was Cubmaster last year.

No awards will be presented; the meeting will be devoted to getting the new year's program under way.

Cotton Elected To Boy Scout District Office

Mark C. Cotton, Magna engineering company executive since the firm's founding and a resident of 1701 Santa Cruz avenue, was Tuesday night elected chairman of the Live Oak District committee, Boy Scouts of America, succeeding William V. Regan in that post.

The election took place at a regular monthly meeting of the group held at Central school. The Live Oak District committee is made up of adult Scout leaders, planning and executing plans for Scout units in the Menlo Park-Atherton-Woodside-East Palo Alto area.

Roy Sexton was re-elected district Scout commissioner. As such, he will be in charge of program and other executive work required by the committee.

Cotton, who is a member of the Menlo Park Rotary club, was one of the founders of the Hillview school Dad's club and has served as a member of the board of directors of the Menlo Park Chamber of Commerce. He has been active in youth affairs for many years.

He is immediate past president of the Menlo Park Rotary group.

Two vice chairmen of the committee were also elected: B. J. Valdes and W. P. Rullhausen.

Members-at-large approved for membership on the district committee include Richard Pilliod, William C. Shreve, William Cutter, Guy Plaisted, Alfred P. Wheeler and Richard Eggleston. All served as members of the district committee last year.

The new officers will be installed at the annual District Recognition dinner, to be held Dec. 7 at Hillview school.

THE HOUSEHOLD of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gaylord of 2158 Cedar avenue was enlarged Sept. 17 to make room for a new baby boy, who joined the family that day.

School District Queries Realtors On Appraisal

Menlo Park School District trustees this week informed the Menlo-Atherton board of Realtors that they'd be grateful for an appraisal of the value of the Central school property, but the district has no funds with which to pay for such a survey.

The letter was okayed by trustees Friday night, as a step in a series of efforts to sell the school property in some manner which would be of benefit to the district.

The missive also told the Realtors that on receipt of an appraisal, trustees could tell Realtors how the land might best be leased or sold for the benefit of the district.

Outright sale of the Central school property—largest unsubdivided parcel in downtown Menlo Park — is not advantageous because profits would go to repay a state aid loan of $780,000 if it realizes that much from sale of property.

However, the state allows school districts, in such circumstances, to make use of certain technicalities, in order to realize a profit, provided they have a locally-made appraisal.

The California State Grange was organized in 1878.

First Hearing:

Public Invited to Discuss Pros, Cons of Proposals to Unify Sequoia District Area

Whether or not all of the school agencies in the Sequoia High School District area should, or can, be combined into one agency will be aired next Tuesday night in Redwood City at a hearing to which the county school redistricting committee has invited all area residents.

The meeting, to be held at the McKinley school auditorium at James and Duane streets, convenes at 8 p. m.

It is an outgrowth of work done by the county redistricting committee, first formed in 1946-47 and since augmented with its membership extended to include members of all school boards in the affected area.

Invitations to the gathering have been extended to all of the area's PTA and service clubs, as well as to the school boards and the public at large.

From this area, George Naylor and Perry West of Menlo Park are members of the nine-man central committee of the group.

Proponents of unification, as the proposal is described, argue that it will result in certain economies of operation and purchasing, and will allow for better coordination between elementary school and high school programs.

Opponents contend that the combining of such varied communities as those in the Sequoia district area would be mutually disadvantageous, and that unification of schools, in the face of continued autonomy of the several cities in the Sequoia district, would not see desired results achieved.

NEW STATE AGENCY

The state of California, meanwhile, has been working for combining the smaller districts into larger ones, and currently has a district reorganization division in its department of education.

The proposal to unify the Sequoia high school district is actually one of three proposals once studied by the county committee.

The other two proposals, having been rejected, include one asking that the five districts of the south county (Greersburg, Portola, Las Lomitas, Menlo Park and Ravenswood) be combined and the other that all school agencies of the entire county be combined into one.

The first proposal apparently was rejected because it was felt the district resulting would be too small; the other, that it would result in a district that was too large.

Should the augmented redistricting committee which is hosting Tuesday's meeting decide they are in favor of the proposal, after a series of hearings, they will submit it to state school authorities.

If the latter approve, the proposal will be re-tackled in another series of hearings, and will finally become the subject of a unification election.

Gymnasium . . .

ceives a setback, too, when one considers that Sequoia high school district trustees are currently receiving bids on a classroom unit to bring the school's capacity from 1750 to 2000.

The gym was originally designed for a school of 1750; at the last minute, the architects modified their plans to allow more locker room and shower space to be installed.

When the new classroom unit is completed, it will mean a high school has been built here for a total cost of $2,200,000, the architects point out.

This, as is borne out by findings of the Sequoia district citizen's committee, is well under the average cost of such plants.

Democrat Panel to View 'Give-away'

"The Big Giveaway Program," a public roundtable on current political issues, will be staged at the Menlo Park city council chambers Thursday, Oct. 21 at 8 p. m.

Serving as moderator of the fifth in a series of informal panel discussions sponsored by the Republicans for Taggart committee, will be Paul S. Taylor.

Dr. Taylor, chairman of the Economics department at the University of California is a recognized international authority on rural agricultural labor. He has served as consultant to the Department of Interior on the Migratory Mexican Labor commission, member of the advisory council of the California Department of Employment, and as member of the California State Board of Agriculture.

KEEPING YOUR PRUDENTIAL PREMIUM DOWN

Blueprints for new homes become blueprints for a better future...blueprints, too, for a vital phase of economic well-being in the San Francisco Bay Area.

"But," you may ask, "what has this got to do with my Prudential life insurance premium?"

A lot. Here's why. The money you pay for Prudential protection is invested—put to work right here in Northern California, in your own city. Prudential dollars are now at work building new Bay Area homes, helping ranchers expand, financing industrial growth. The interest these dollars earn lowers the cost of your Prudential protection.

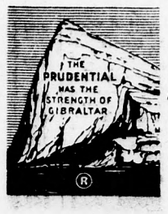

Because of the constantly expanding investment needs of the San Francisco Bay Region, Prudential is opening its modern Northern California Mortgage Loan Office at 8 Homewood Place in Menlo Park this week. Visit this newest Prudential home and meet the staff whenever you are in the vicinity.

Other Prudential career insurance representatives offer security to you and your family in many forms. They'll help you plan insurance that will give your wife and children money to meet everyday living expenses, pay off the mortgage, and cover educational costs if you should die unexpectedly... or the money for worry-free retirement years for you. What's more, they offer coverage to help pay your bills when you are disabled by accident or sickness.

When one of these Prudential agents walks up to your door, welcome him. He's an expert in his profession, the building of a happier future for you and your family...and a co-worker with you in the building of a better Bay Region.

NEW PRUDENTIAL HOME COMPLETED
Northern California's Mortgage Loan Office at Menlo Park is now open, ready to provide even greater service in financing residential, commercial, industrial and farm properties.

Prudential's expansion in Northern California has created professional career opportunities for men with ambition and ability. Discuss these opportunities with your Prudential manager.

A BIG WEEK

This is a big week for Menlo Park.

This is a time when everyone who has the welfare and reputation of this community at heart can say to himself, "We're doing all right!"

Yesterday our own Mayor Charles P. Burgess was elected president of the League of California Cities. In the 56-year history of the league, Burgess is the fourth Peninsulan to hold the position, and the first since Earl C. Thomas of Palo Alto was elected in 1933.

For Burgess it is a high honor, a justly deserved honor, and one in which each citizen of Menlo Park can take pride.

And today we in this community have another reason for civic pride.

It is the official opening of the new offices of the Prudential Life Insurance company here.

Today Prudential officially joins the family of great firms that compose one of this city's finest assets: the Linfield Oaks professional and administrative zone – an asset, incidentally, for which the vision of Charles P. Burgess is largely responsible.

To all the officers and staff of the Prudential we say a warm "Welcome!"

25 Years Ago:

Bayshore Highway Was Just Opening

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

October 18, 1929:

"All San Mateo county is joining with San Francisco next Sunday in the big celebration which will be held in connection with the opening to traffic of Bayshore highway . . .

"The chambers of commerce of seven cities on the Peninsula are working with the county chamber in working out details for the county's participation in the big event.

"Menlo Park, Ravenswood, Runnymede and East Palo Alto will join with Redwood City in a big automobile parade to South San Francisco, where the caravan will be joined by San Mateo and Burlingame delegations . . .

"At 4 o'clock a flying circus will be staged by the pilots of Mills Field at the city's municipal airport on the highway. Scores of noted aviators will perform in a stunt program. Parking space has been provided in the vicinity of Mills Field for more than 10,000 cars."

BOOZE SEIZED

"One of the biggest hauls of high grade liquor in the history of San Mateo county was made last Friday night by the Redwood City police who nofficers W. H. Thorpe and Henry Mengel overhauled a truck on the highway just at the north end of the city limits . . . The driver was halted for speeding, but when the officers examined the truck they found it loaded with liquor valued at approximately $6000. The wetness of the sacks which contained the booze, consisted of high grade whiskey, champagne and creme de menthe, and presence of sand indicated that the cargo had just been landed early in the day at some point along the Santa Cruz shoreline."

Adlai Stevenson Takes Rest Here

Adlai Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and an avid campaigner for local Democratic candidates throughout the US, spent Sunday at the E. H. Helle restate in Atherton, resting on his campaign swing through this area.

In the caravan which on Saturday accompanied Stevenson from San Francisco airport to a San Francisco rally, where he made a major party policy statement, Menlo Park's delegation included Mrs. Paul Cook, who drove the car carrying State Assembly candidate Frank Groves and Trygve Elwick of East Palo Alto.

Several hundred other Menlo Park area boosters attended the rally, held at the civic auditorium.

GIRLS' DAY SCHEDULE

Girls' basketball is the order of the things during Tuesday and Thursday "Girls' day" afternoons at playgrounds of schools of the Menlo Park Elementary School District, currently.

County's Value Is Set

Grand total value of property subject to taxation in San Mateo county is $475,502,565, according to figures released this week by Robert C. Kirkwood, state controller.

The total includes values of land, improvements, personal property both for the assessed valuation by the state board of equalization and by city and county tax assessors.

Your City's Business

Sales Tax Has Wide Use in Cal

By MAYOR CHAS. P. BURGESS

The most important and controversial topic on the agenda of this League of California Cities conference is what position to take with respect to the city sales tax.

Today (Sunday) the League's study committee on the subject reported a program which was evolved in discussion meetings with the California Retailers' association committee.

The committee recommendation was endorsed by the board of directors and is to be submitted to the mayors' and councilmen's department of the League at this convention Monday afternoon.

Some 173 of California's 300-plus cities now have city sales taxes. These 173 cities, however, account for 85 per cent of the total city population of the state.

Rates vary from ½ per cent to 1½ per cent, with most city population supporting a 1 per cent rate. These sales taxes have become an indispensable source of revenue for most of the cities that have adopted them.

There is no uniformity as to rate, and exemptions and other regulations vary from city to city. A major problem is exemption from local sales tax of retail sales made for delivery outside city boundaries.

This is a constant source of difficulty to clerks determining when and when not to charge the sales tax.

These complexities have resulted in numerous headaches to retailers, who are seeking statewide uniformity in the sales tax. Many cities have been resisting the proposal on the grounds that it would deprive them of a facet of home rule by requiring that the rate be just so much and no more nor no less. Counties are seeking to broaden their tax bases, and many want authority to levy sales taxes.

The League committee proposes that counties be given authority to levy a one per cent sales tax. Any city council levying a sales tax of up to one per cent would receive all the proceeds of this tax inside the city.

If the council wished to levy only one-half per cent, then half of this levy inside the city would go to the county. If it levied no tax, the county would get the entire proceeds. As a practical matter, all city councils in a county which levied the tax would levy a full one per cent, leaving the county only the proceeds in the unincorporated areas. The tax would be collected by the state along with the regular state sales tax.

In counties in which the board of supervisors did not levy a sales tax, there would be no change from the present. Where the board does, however, there would be county-wide uniformity, which would achieve the retailers' goal in this area.

Whether or not there would be a sales tax in a county thus would be left to local determination, and whether or not there would be a city sales tax theoretically would be left to local determination.

It is further proposed that when over half or two-thirds (the proportion not yet definitely decided) of the population of a county is included in cities with a sales tax, it becomes the mandatory duty of a board of supervisors to levy a one per cent sales tax in that county, on the theory of majority rule.

GOPers Tell Plans For Dinner-Dance

"We have planned a fine evening of entertainment for the dinner-dance honoring Congresscan and Mrs. J. Arthur Younger next Saturday evening," Louis Siracusa, chairman of the affair, to be staged at the Peninsula Social club, 52 North B street, in San Mateo, said today.

The party, under auspices of "Democrats and Republicans for Younger," will feature Ernie Orsati's orchestra.

The public is invited to meet Congressman and Mrs. Younger. Cocktail hour begins at 6 p. m., dinner at 7 and dancing from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. Tickets are available in Menlo Park from Robert Stanton or Mrs. Arno W. Singhoff or any member of their committee, or at Republican headquarters in San Mateo.

RC Chapter Sets TB Hospital Party

Mrs. Virginia Bassett, well-known San Francisco teacher of dramatics, will present pieces from her extensive repertoire of sketches and monologues, at the Hallowe'en party being planned for patients at San Mateo county's TB hospital on the evening of Oct. 28.

The affair, which is one of three annual parties sponsored and initiated by Gray Ladies of the Sequoia chapter, American Red Cross, is the incentive for extensive preparation by both patients and Gray Ladies, according to Mrs. Alexander Macpherson, chairman of the hospital's Gray Ladies staff.

THE NORMAN MYWOONS of 2722 Alpine road are the parents of a daughter born Oct. 11.

"First I want you to show me how to be a born golfer"

Area Men, Women On Panel for Knight Re-Election

Members of the county - wide campaign committee supporting Governor Goodwin J. Knight's bid for re-election on Nov. 2, met at the Knight headquarters in Burlingame last week to lay plans for a precinct drive which leaders of the committee say will produce an overwhelming vote majority for the incumbent governor at the polls next month.

Raymond J. Daba, general county chairman for Knight, and Mrs. Louise Kutsche of Atherton, women's chairman, obth anticiuate a record turnout of voters.

Knight volunteer workers in the Menlo Park-Atherton area are:

Atherton city captain, Mrs. William Bancroft, Mrs. Edwin Brooks, Florence L. Davis, Mrs. George Lampman, Mrs. Joseph K. Allen, Mrs. John Dinkelspiel, Alice Cornell, Lillian Cornell and Mrs. Helen H. Forsythe.

City co-captains for Menlo Park are Mrs. Frank Shaw and Mrs. J. Chaffet; Mrs. A. R. Logan, Mrs. B. E. Hayden, Mrs Louis Everett, Mrs. Theodore Blake, Mrs. Geoffrey Almy, Mrs. Lois Goodrich, Mrs. E. A. Wheaton, Mrs. Milton Smith, Mrs. W. P. Gulick and Mrs. W. O. Traphagen.

USNAF Air Cadets Recruiters to Visit

The Naval Aviation Cadet Selection team of both the Navy and Marine corps will visit the Menlo College here on Friday, Oct. 29, to furnish information on the combined regular and reserve officer candidate program to eligible students.

The interviewing officers are Lieutenant Hartley Graham and Lieutenant Anthony Kampmann—both combat veterans stationed at the Oakland naval air station. They will hold interviews and give qualifying examinations in the student union from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on Friday and will remain on the campus into the evening hours by appointment.

To be eligible to fly with the fleet, an applicant must have 60 or more semester hours or 90 or more quarter hours, must be unmarried and remain so during training, must not have received orders to induction, and must pass physical and written aptitude examinations which will be given at the Oakland naval air station.

Menlo Park Man Gets Fellowship

Dr. Vincent Salmon of Menlo Park, was awarded a fellowship by the Audio Engineering society for outstanding work in the audio engineering field. He received the award at the society's annual banquet last week in conjunction with the organization's sixth annual convention, held in the Hotel New Yorker, New York.

Dr. Salmon is governor and member, San Francisco section, Stanford Research Institute, Menlo Park. The Audio Engineering society is a professional organization in the field of recording, transmission and reproduction of sound, in frequencies audible to the human ear.

Localites to Greet Attorney General

Attorney General Edmund G. (Pat) Brown will speak in behalf of the candidacy of Dr. Harold F. Taggart at a luncheon Friday at the Chukker in San Mateo. Among localites planning to attend are Paul B. Jensen, county coroner public administrator, who resides here; delegates from the Menlo Atherton and East Palo Alto Democratic clubs and local attorneys honoring the attorney general.

Dr. Taggart is Democratic candidate for US congress from San Mateo county.

Jack Peak Elected To Club Office

Jack Peak, 100 University drive, has been elected treasurer of the Panair Management club, it was announced this week by Pan-American airways, for which Peak is employed as a facilitations superintendent.

Peak will serve for the coming year.

The club is composed of management and supervisory personnel of the airline's Pacific-Alaska division at San Francisco airport.

Peak is to be installed at a dinner tonight at Bob's on Broadway.

Dr. Homfeld Gives 'In Service' Talks

Menlo Park School District Superintendent Dr. Mel Homfeld will give the lead-off addresses at the first session of the district's in-service teacher training, to be held at Oak Knoll school next Tuesday.

The day has been declared a "minimum day" to allow the district's 85 teachers and instructional staff members to attend the sessions.

Dr. Homfeld will give two one-hour lectures.

The first, "Teaching of Attitudes," will emphasize the importance of getting the fundamental democratic ideals of equality and brotherhood across to students.

The second, a resume of the district's study of gifted children and how the district's program may be made challenging to them, will follow.

MP Doctors Attend 'Cardiology' Meet

Four south county medical men were among the more than 800 who last week attended the 25th annual postgraduate symposium on heart disease in San Francisco. They were Doctors Joseph Welch, James Flippen and R. E. Munson of Menlo Park and Dr. T. L. Wolfe of Atherton.

The symposium was concerned with discussion of new findings and methods in the field of cardiology, and featured talks by specialists from all parts of the world. For example, Dr. Viking Olaf Bjork of Stockholm told of a simple new method of measuring blood pressure inside the left ventricle of the heart.

Burlingame Firm Gets Contract For Fremont Job

Running into bids considerably higher than expected, Menlo Park School District trustees this week signed a contract with the Morris Daley construction company of Burlingame for rebuilding of the central section of Fremont school.

Daley's bid—the lowest of seven submitted at a Friday night meeting of the board—was for $57,693. Alternates calling for a new telephone system set-up and a paint job for the exterior of the school were cut out of the project, cost of which was previously estimated at about $45,000.

Kingsford Jones is architect for the building project, which calls for reconstruction of the old central unit of the school, complete rebuilding of the roof, and installation of a new heating system.

The board Friday night also authorized the hiring of Melvin Gross as inspector on the job. He will be paid $150 per month while the reconstruction is in process.

Board members, who have been considering some work on culverts an pavements in the Hillview school parking area, decided to hold off on such a project after district business manager reported that unofficial bids had proved higher than expected.

Cub Pack 63 Sets Monday Meeting

Entertaining playlets will be presented by two dens of Pack 63, Hillvie wschool Cub Scouts Monday evening, Oct. 25, in the all purpose room. Awards will be given to the deserving cubs according to Buzz Crow, award chairman. Phl Pitney will present the Webelos insignias.

SCHOOL DAZE

Walter the Weathermouse had a reminiscent, thoughtful look about him as he sauntered in this week.

"I was just trying to imagine," he observed, "how it used to snow in the olden days."

"How so?" we queried. "We don't remember snowfall ever becoming a problem hereabouts."

"No? That's funny," said our wee correspondent. "I meet so many people who tell me how they hiked five miles a day to school every morning, just to save a nickel car fare so they could pay for their college educations. . . . I just got the idea that it used to snow something fierce."

"We have heard such tales our selves," we replied. "Maybe our memories are short, but apparently there was a time when it snowed from September to June, with the drifts never less than two feet deep. And little red school houses were in the remotest doggone places, too."

7th Grade Mentor Still Sought

Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees are this week continuing their search for a qualified, experienced seventh-grade teacher, to fill a post in a newly-created class, having hired two new second-grade teachers late last week.

The three hirings were authorized by teh trustees Oct. 11, as they moved to cut class sizes at Hillview and Encinal schools.

The two new second-grade teachers are Mrs. Adelaide Humasti, who has been a substitute teacher in the district and Mrs. Barbara Kafka, a graduate of College of the Pacific with two years' teaching experience.

SP Doing Track Maintenance Job In Menlo Park

Reconditioning of nearly one mile of its southbound track bed south from Menlo Park station is now 25 per cent completed, Southern Pacific announced today.

The project, according to H. W. Neuebaumer, division engineer, is part of Southern Pacific's continuing program of maintaining track for safe and smooth riding.

More than 540 tons of crushed rock have been ordered to replace "dirty" ballast which interferes with smooth riding and also interferes with proper drainage, Neuebaumer said.

The rock, brought from a quarry at Logan, near Watsonville Junction, is tamped in place under ties by pneumatic guns. Worn ties are also being replaced.

When work is completed, the track will have been raised about two inches.

The track maintenance project includes reconditioning of the southbound rail bed at the Ravenswood avenue crossing, with necessary repaving.

Work is scheduled so that there is no interference with peak commuter traffic, Neuebaumer explained. At the end of the day, the track is restored for normal safe operation.

Track forces are working intermittently on this project along with other important track work.

Menlo Building Barometer

Five building permits, authorizing a total of $7550 worth of construction, were issued by the City of Menlo Park during the week ended Oct. 19. They included:

MISCELLANEOUS

Mrs. Ann Sobrato, owner; Madlem construction company, builder; office alteration at 1010 Noel drive; $2000.

Mrs. Van de Erve, owner; day work; roof over front porch at 949 Menlo avenue; $150.

Frank Schmidt, owner; C. T. Lindsay, builder; tool shed at 431 Laurel street; $400.

Menlo Furnace, owner; C. T. Lindsay, builder; addition to office, 791 Hamilton avenue; $3000.

Keith Petty, owner; Anderson brothers, builders; house move and alterations; $2000.

OCTOBER 10 was the birthday of a son who joined the family of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gooch of 1908 Camino de los Robles.

Peninsula Symphony Sets First Concerts For Friday, Saturday in Redwood City

Peninsula Symphony association will present the first pair of concerts of its sixth season Friday and Saturday evening, Oct. 22 and 23 at Sequoia high school auditorium in Redwood City. Concert time is 8:30 p. m.

Miss Eleana Guirola Hitchcock, noted young pianist, will be featured in the Concerto for Piano and Orchestra in G Minor, No. 2 Opus 22 by Camille Saint - Saens.

Miss Hitchcock has received excellent critical acclaim and last January appeared with the San Francisco symphony orchestra on radio's Standard hour.

Other selections on the program are the Symphony No. 2 in D Minor, Opus 70 by Antonin Dvorak and the Suite from the Ballet "Gayaneh" by Aram Khatchatourian.

A brief observance of United Nations week will open the program with Richard Elkus of Woodside as the guest speaker. Colors will be honored by the color guahd of the 26th district of San Mateo county, American Legion, burnished by Post 828.

Among the 65 orchestra members will be the following from the Menlo Park-East Palo Alto-Atherton-Woodside area: Jack and June Case, Betty Ann Peterson, Frances Fisher, Edmund Silverbrand, Maurine Stowe, Alma Nye, George Cawthorn, D. C. Perfume and William Van Sandt.

Tickets are available on concert nights at the box office. Complimentary tickets may be had on request from the sponsoring merchants and businessmen in the various Peninsula cities. These businesses are listed by the Chamber of Commerce offices in their locality.

Basketball:

MANAGERS MEET

Managers and representatives of teams interested in playing in forthcoming A, B and Industrial class basketball at Burgess park gym are to convene there tonight at 7 p. m., to work on schedules, it was announced this week by Stan Sexton, recreation supervisor in charge of the activity.

Everybody is welcome, he added, and there are no restrictions as to cities or districts which teams may represent.

Only cost to teams playing, Sexton points out, will be those necessary to pay for a referee and scorekeeper. All other costs —trophies, basketballs, lighting, shower facilities and locker space—will be handled by the city recreation department.

Lightweights at Halfway Point

Menlo-Atherton high school's lightweight basketballers observe the halfway point in their thus-far undefeated PAL season by tangling with also-unbeaten Willow Glen this afternoon at Burgess park gym.

The class C and class D basketballers, pounding away as they did last year, are in a fair position to make the same sweep of southern division play, if they get past today's obstacle. Robert Ayers' lads will take to the maples at 3:15 p. m.

Ayers observed that all his forwards and centers are hitting pretty consistently.

How well they've been doing is indicated by the scores of last week's games against the Palo Alto high school Li'l Vikings, in which the D's scored 28 to Paly's 16 and the C's ran away from their contenders, finally stopping when they were ahead 44-21.

Ayers' group was to meet the Lincoln high school aggregation there Tuesday.

READY FOR CONCERTS

VIEWING THE SCORE of one of the compositions they will play during the California Youth Symphony concert in San Mateo Oct. 24 are left to right, Betty Jane Cawthron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Cawthron of Berkeley avenue and oboe player with the orchestra, John Israel, 15, of Palo Alto, who will be piano soloist and Aaron Sten, conductor and director of the orchestra. The orchestra's concert will be presented at the San Mateo high school auditorium; selections will include the overture from "Die Fledermaus," Mozart's 35th Symphony, the "Dream Pantomime and Prayer" from Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel" and "Stars and Stripes Forever." Tickets to the affair may be had by calling Mrs. Eleanor Callan, DI 5-6904. —David Haylock photo

Winless Water Poloists Meet Carlmont

Coach Tommy O'Neil's Menlo Atherton water poloists are still winless, but looking better. This was indicated last week when, against an experienced and traditionally high-placing Palo Alto team, they managed to make a game of it and emerged at the bottom end of a 10-6 score.

They hoped to go on the offensive yesterday, when they were scheduled to meet Carlmont, but as of Tuesday afternoon nobody knew where the Wednesday afternon game was to be played.

O'Neil observed that neither Menlo - Atherton or Carlmont had any cages at the end of their swimming pools; as of Tuesday, a pool was still being sought.

So far, O'Neil said before yesterday's game, Roger Clark has proved to be the high scorer, working from his forward position.

Starting swimmers will be about the same as those selected at the start of the season, meaning Andy Schwartz is spring forward, Clark and Spencer Johnston are at the forward spots, Keith Holluefter, Bill Augenstine and Bob Adams are guards and either Gary Dodson or Donald Genasci are the goalies.

Bear Varsity Hopes To Break Jinx, Win Friday Clash with Sequoia Cherokees

With the sweet taste of the season's first victory still on their lips, Menlo-Atherton's Bears will be making their third attempt to outscore Sequoia in three years, when the teams meet at Terremere field, Redwood City, tomorrow at 8 p. m.

Coach Howard Costello's varsity was working on just about everything in football practice sessions this week, as date of the encounter neared.

Coach Stan LeProtti's Cherokees, rated low before the start of the season but having everybody wondering why ever since, may be expected to outweigh the locals by a few pounds, Costello said. He added, though, that he hasn't seen any official weights for the Redwood City team.

He added, also, that the Menlo-Atherton club is in good shape for the game. Only squad member who is still out is Bob Paxton, sidelined before the Carlmont game with a bad knee. Paxton ordinarily would be handy to have to fill holes at defensive tackle.

Meanwhile, Costello pointed to the figures of past seasons, for whatever they might be worth, as indications of how Menlo-Atherton has been sneaking up on the Cherokees.

In Menlo-Atherton's first year of varsity football, two years ago, the locals succumbed by a 15-0 score; last year, they looked better but still emerged at the bottom of a 13-7 score.

Should Menlo-Atherton win over Sequoia, it would put the team in the position of "champion of the Sequoia High School District," whatever that might mean, before the PAL season is half over.

Starters will be Tom Blackwood at quarterback and Troy Ratliff at fullback, with Pete Welch and Duncan Ferguson at the halfback spots. In the line, Bill Hilton and Jerry Terhune will be found at the ends; Beryl Clark and Larry Anderson, tackles, Jim Fitch and Bill Boorman at guards and Bill Douglas at center.

Menlo-Atherton's reputation as a sort of doormat—one built with eight consecutive losses in two seasons—ended abruptly with the opening kickoff of last Friday night's game.

For taking the kickoff on his own 13 was Wade Hampton, who raced 87 yeards for the first of a series of scores which completely humbled Carlmont before the night was over.

Continuing their work on their passing game, the Bears attempted 12 and completed five; four of the heaves saw the receivers ramble into the end zone for scores.

The Bears amassed a total of 21 first downs while the unlucky Highlanders got only three; they gained a total of 383 yards rushing and 46 yards passing.

Possibly the Bears could have made the Highlanders look like some sort of a PCC team because by the end of the first half they had amassed 33 of their total points.

TRIES NEW COMBOS

Coach Costello, however, apparently feeling he could use a little more experience in his secondary platoons, began trying different combinations of players.

	M-A	Carl

Menlo-Atherton's Frosh-Soph Gridders Host High-Rated Palo Alto Team Here Today

Menlo - Atherton's Frosh - Soph football team, with one tie and one win behind them, faces what Coaches Sam Lugonja and Frank Bettencourt describe as their toughest opponent yet this afternoon, when they host Palo Alto's eleven on the new Ringwood avenue turf.

Palo Alto's Frosh-Sophs, with an almost unbeaten record behind them, run out of a T. Coach is Al Mercer.

Lugonja and Bettencourt, whose lads also run out of a T, have been working on all phases of the game but particularly on passing and pass defense during the early days of this week.

Today's starting platoon should be the same as that of last week, meaning Larry Miller at quarterback, Ray Carter at fullback, Hal Turner and Don Powell at the halfs.

In the line, should Menlo-Atherton win the toss, Charles Dahl and Ralph McIntyre will start at ends, Ed Malone and John Meese at tackles, Bill Menta and George Brown ah guards and Peter Kaldveer at center.

PAL-wise, the frosh-sophs look pretty good, with their scoreless tie with San Mateo holding them at one tie ,one win.

It's a little early, say the coaches, to tell where the statistics will end, because most of the schedule remains ahead.

Two extremely evenly-matched football teams, San Mateo and Menlo-Atherton, battled it out last Thursday afternoon in M-A's first home game, to a final score of 0-0.

San Mateo kicked off, and star fullback Ray Carter promptly ran it back to their 28. M-A's three downs went by fast without any appreciable gain, so quarterback Lary Miller punted. The San Mateo player was pinned within 10 yards of their end zone. They completed several successful runs for a first, then completed a nice 15 yard pass.

Once again, they kicked on the fourth down, and galloping halfback Hal Turner raced a full 50 yards before being downed on their 32. The Bears lost the ball to SM by a fumble on the last play. In a series of first downs, SM charged all the way to our 10 yard line, within "spitting distance" of the goal. However, their four plays also flew by, and it was M-A's first on her own 12.

Then came several good runs by Carter and Hal Turner. But Miller was still forced to kick on the eighth down. It was a beautiful kick, typical of Miller, and the receiving SM player dropped the pigskin. M-A recovered for her first down once again!

Then the Bears switched to passing tactics, but the third one was intercepted by a San Matean and, with excellent interference blocking, the player made it to our 25. They never quite made it to the Bears' end zone, however, and it was M-A's first on her own 20.

Carter and Turner made two splendid runs totalling 23 yards before the gun sounded, ending the half.

SECOND HALF

Sam Mateo received M-A's kick in the second half, and were dropped on their 35. On their eighth play from scrimmage, the center "goofed" and the receiving halfback was pinned way behind the line, making it M-A's first on San Mateo's 25. Hal Turner raced 12 yards for another first down. Then on another play, a too-long pass trickled through his fingers, to give SM their first on their 20.

They punted on their fourth play, for the Bears' first on SM's 43. The third quarter ended after Hal Turner again couldn't quite catch up with a long pass.

In the final quarter, the tension was steadily mounting as both teams were trying desperately to make a scoring or prevent the other team's doing it.

However, on their next fourth down, the Bears intercepted a long pass and took it to their own 40.

RUN-BACK

San Mateo returned M-A's kick to their own 40, then they barely missed two long passes, either of which, if completed, probably would have spelled doom for the Bears. M-A then obtained a first. With only one small minute left in the game, SM intercepted a long pass by which they made it to M-A's 40. Then Turner intercepted a SM pass and started a terrific gallop down the turf, knowing that this was to be the last play in the game. Starting at the 50 yard line he passed the 40 yard mark, the 30, the 20, and then he was tackled . . . and how! . . . by an SM player on their 15.

Touch Football:

SKED SHIFTS

Some late shifts in the after-school touch football schedule of the Menlo Park Elementary School District were noted this week by Stan Sexton of the city rec department, as date for the opening games neared.

Team play will start, for fifth and sixth graders, on Oct. 25 rather than Oct. 22 as previously announced. Seventh and eighth graders will get league play underway on Oct. 27.

Schedules are now being duplicated, and will be distributed to young footballers early next weeks, says Sexton, in plenty of time for first games.

The teams are under instruction of regular after-school playground supervisors, and have been participating in football clinics since the opening of school.

Red Cross Asks Volunteers For Gift Wrap

A call for volunteers to wrap Christmas gifts for the boys in service aboard ship at Christmastime, was issued by Mrs. Frank Bodine, supply chairman of Sequoia chapter, American Red Cross, in its regular monthly meeting of chairmen of the services at the chapter house, last week.

The volunteers are needed in conjunction with the chapter's "Christmas on the High Seas" activity. Any organized groups desiring to help this project with a money donation are urged to contact the chapter at once as gifts must be in area headquarters at San Francisco by Dec. 1. Wrapping will be done at the chapter house, 3540 Middlefield road, beginning Nov. 15.

Mrs. Bodine assured donors that they will receive recognition for their gifts on cards accompanying the packages. Supply Service of the Red Cross, also furnishes treats to the patients in the Veterans' hospital each month, and donors may also contribute money for this activity.

Volunteers to help the Christmas wrapping program at Moffett field, Dec. 2, 9, 16 and 23, were solicited by Mrs. James Stewart, chairman of the coordinating committee for the Veterans' hospital.

Red Crossers are requested to come in uniform on those days, for whatever time they can contribute between the hours of 9 a. m. and 4 p. m., to building 25 at Moffett.

Additional staff aides for the many services are also vitally needed at the chapter house, according to Mrs. Clement Jennings, recently appointed chairman of staff aides.

The following chairmen of the services attended the meeting: Mrs. Guy Gay, Mrs. James Stewart, Mrs. Melville Homfeld, Mrs. Eric Stanford, Mrs. Clement Jennings, Mrs. Henry Leicester and Mrs. Miles Weeks.

Also Miss Susan Norris and Mrs. Roland Bermejo, Mrs. William Werder, Mrs. William Gray, Mrs. Frank Bodine, Mrs. Harland Duncan, Mrs. John Breeden, Mrs. Gordon Dickerson, Mrs. George Boring and Mrs. Hiram Broiles.

Mrs. Leroy Hubbard of Atherton was a representative of canteen service at the meeting.

Tricks to Duplicate Natural Habitat Help Native Plants to Flourish in Home Garden

By TERRY LEE

Most second-year Californians have become accustomed to the usually unusual weather and realize that some plants cannot survive the hot, dry summers and excessive winter rain, while others thrive.

The plants that thrive the most are those that are native.

Driving through the Santa Cruz mountains this weekend, I wondered why anyone pined over the lack of lilacs or peonies, when some of the most beautiful plants in the world will grow only here.

Certainly the redwoods are the most majestic, and the red bark and dark leaves of the manzanita and large madrone would be envied anywhere.

The red berried toyon bushes and the white snowberries looked like Christmas cards, and I think the winter-to-summer flowering ceanothus is as beautiful as any lilic.

CAN GROW HERE

At last is is possible, and very practical, to grow native shrubs in the average garden. The development of hybrid shrubs has made the natives tolerant of extra water and the confined quarters of most gardens. Even fragrance has been added.

One of the best offerings is Ceanothus griseus, called the Deep Blue Wild Lilac. The flower color lives up to the name, and the fragrance is equally vigorous. The plant normally reaches a height of six feet. Another, La Primavera, gets up to eight feet. They would make a fine informal hedge or a striking accent for a garden corner.

Several ceanothus species grow naturally in ground-hugging form, making them highly useful and ornamental in rock gardens or as ground covers.

An excellent one is Ceanothus prostratus, with dark, glossy-green leaves that are wedge-shaped. In the spring it is virtually covered with a froth of blue, made by countless tiny lilac flowers born on short stems. It grows very low and quickly spreads to cover an area of five feet. It is very strong, and has a long life. Another form has smaller, holly-like leaves and makes a dense mat a few inches higher.

Though the blues are most popular, some have pink or white flowers. The white-flowered one is hardier, and during the Revolutionary War its leaves were dried and used to brew a substitute for tea. (Ceanothus Americanus, known as Jersey tea).

The Franciscan padres in early California, learning from the Indians, discovered that the flowers of the ceanothuses, when rubbed in water, produced a lather as good as that produced by soap.

GARDEN CALENDAR WEEK OF OCT. 21

There will be no let-up of aphids until cold weather comes. Spray them with a nicotine sulphate and soap solution. The aerosol - type sprays are effective when you want to control only a few aphids on some prize plants.

* * *

Keep watering chrysanthemums while they are in bloom and you will extend their flowering time by a week or more.

* * *

You can force most bulbs into early flowering by planting them now in pots of good garden soil (I add sand and a pinch of bonemeal).

The pots should be put in a col, shaded place and kept moist for four to six weeks so the bulbs will make good root growth.

Then they are brought inside to a warm, light spot. Selecting good bulbs and never letting them dry out should insure success. A pot of snowdrops and grape hyacinths about to bloom would make a fine Christmas present.

Encinal Signal Action Brings School Plaudits

Atherton town council this week received the thanks of the Menlo Park School District for their efforts to get a signal light installed at Encinal school's crossing of Middlefield road.

The letter was sent Friday night, having been prepared previously by District Superintendent Dr. Mel Homfeld. Homfeld was told to write such a letter at the Oct. 11 meeting of the board.

The light, construction of which is to be underway presently, is to be situated on the norther approach to the school, 350 feet away from the Middlefield road-Encinal avenue intersection.

This location was chosen by the Atherton police department as presenting the fewest problems.

Placement of such a light was first asked last spring by the traffic safety committee of the Encinal PTA. Atherton town council authorized the installation late last month.

Atherton Police Chief Leroy Hubbard said the job will be completed in about three weeks.

The California State Park Commission was created in 1927.

AROUND the WORLD in 72 HOURS

Dear Cal-Water Consumer:

Our friends who are regular readers of these little monthly messages tell us that they have been surprised to learn about some of the things which go on "behind the faucet."

We can state frankly that often we are surprised ourselves, but we do our best to be prepared to provide reliable water service to all our consumers 24 hours a day, 365 days of the year, regardless of the unexpected.

For example, recently the source of supply for one of our service communities was suddenly interrupted by a break in a transmission main, threatening about 600 consumers with dry faucets. Fortunately, we had prepared for such an emergency by providing an auxiliary connection in another part of the area. This alone would have enabled us to supply a certain amount of water to our consumers, but not sufficient to meet full requirements.

For added "muscle" we maintain a task force of portable booster pumps, scattered strategically throughout our service areas from Chico to Redondo Beach. When we switched to the auxiliary connection, immediately the call went out for the "pumps on wheels." Within a matter of hours, six portable boosters, powered by 75 HP gasoline engines, were on the job providing the extra pressume needed to get the water to our customers.

The gas engines are equipped with speedometers which register the "mileage" for servicing purposes, similar to your car. Roaring away at the speed of 70 miles an hour, night and day, the engines drove the pumps steadily for a 72 hours stretch until the transmission main break was repaired.

When our weary crews checked the speedometers, they found that the engines had run the equivalent of 28,000 miles—equal to the distance around the world! Thanks to our program of preparedness, with a special bow to the portable booster pumps, our customers experienced no series interruption of water service during the three-day emergency period.

Sincerely yours,

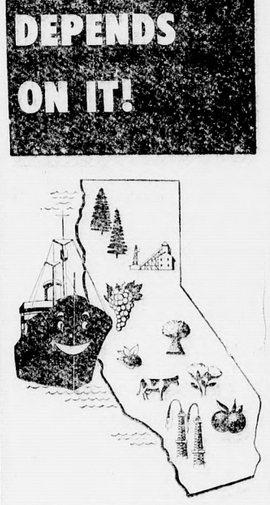

Bill Nahmens

Henry Carroll, Ex-Councilman, Dies in Oregon

Henry Carroll, a former Menlo Park city councilman and grocery operator, was buried at Cypress Lawn Memorial park in Colma on Saturday, following his death earlier last week in Roseberg, Oregon. He was 75.

Carroll had been the operator of a store at El Camino Real and Harvard avenue, during his business career here. His political career lasted during the eight years immediately following his election to the council in 1934 and while on that body, he served for a time as police commissioner.

During the early days of World War II, he served on Menlo Park's draft board before it was moved to Redwood City.

He was a native of Cairo, Illinois and had lived in San Francisco before moving here.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Billee Sydenstricker of Sacramento.

The Rev. Don. E. Hall, pastor of Menlo Park Presbyterian church, officiated at funeral services, the latter conducted from the Tinney funeral home in Palo Alto.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Emma Reynolds

Hrs. Emma Lee Reynolds, a resident of Menlo Park since 1949, died Monday at Commuinty hospital in San Mateo after a short illness. She was 60 at the time of passing.

Mrs. Reynolds, whose final home wa sat 120 Hamilton avenue, was a native of Tennessee. Her death followed a short illness.

She was the mother of Mrs. Winonia Drew of Menlo Park, Mrs. LaRue Medlock of Kinzua, Ore., Mrs. Argyl Magi of Campbell and Delmer Smith of New Pine Creek, Ore.

She is also survived by three sisters and two brothers: Mrs. Ella Kenper of London, Ore.; Mrs. Freida Beckelhymer, East Palo Alto; Mrs. Ruby Main of Saratoga and Horace and Roy Long, both of Shady Cove, Ore.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday from the Johnston and Tinney Colonial chapel at 650 Live Oak avenue, with the Rev. Don Lehmann, pastor of the East Palo Alto Community church, officiating.

Inurnment was at Alta Mesa Memorial park.

W. W. Stettheimer

Funeral services were held Friday for Walter W. Stettheimer, retired San Francisco textile merchant and resident of Atherton for the past 48 years, who died last week at the family home after a long illness. He was 81.

Stettheimer, whose final address was 78 Selby lane, was born in Rochester and had been engaged in business in San Francisco for 60 years. He retired last January after operating his own business since 1932. Prior to that time, he was with Neustadter brothers in the city.

Stettheimer was well known as a dog fancier, breeder and judge. He was a member of the Leach club of New York City and the American Kennel club.

In addition, he had served for many years on the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce's executive board, and was for many years a member of the Beresford Country club.

He was a member of Fidelity lodge, F & AM, of San Francisco.

Survivors include Stettheimer's widow, Mrs. Florence Neustadter Stettheimer of Atherton and two children, Mrs. Barbara S. Adler of New York and Mrs. Jean S. Steinhardt of Woodside.

Funeral services were private, and were conducted under the auspices of Roller and Hapgood of Palo Alto.

Dr. James Sargent

Menlo Park area friends have just received word of the sudden passing in Milwaukee, Wis., of Dr. James Sargent.

Dr. and Mrs. Sargent were former residents of Menlo Park and will be well remembered by residents of Menlo Park and Palo Alto for their activities in Red Cross and other community interests.

Rotary Clubbers Hear Rev. Hall

The Rev. Don Emerson Hall, pastor of Menlo Park Presbyterian church, yesterday described some of the highlights of his recent trip to Europe and the Holy Land before the Menlo Park Rotary club, at the group's regular gathering at the Fraternal meeting hall, 645 Roble avenue.

Meanwhile, club President John Von Berg reminds his officers, written committee reports are desired before next Wednesday's meeting.

70 MP Pupils See Opera 'Rigoletto'

About 70 seventh and eighth grade students of Menlo Park Elementary schools Monday journeyed to San Francisco, to attend a matinee performance of "Rigoletto" by the San Francisco opera company.

Transportation was by private auto; Norman Cory, school district music consultant, was in charge of obtaining tickets for those attending.

WELCOMED into the family of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Lee Dagg, 311 Terminal avenue, on Sept. 11 was a new baby boy.

Mrs. Anita Graves

Funeral services were held yesterday for Mrs. Anita Kazmaier Graves, who died at Sequoia hospital Saturday after an illness of seven years at the age of 55. Mrs. Graves had made her final home at 1140 Cotton street.

Mrs. Graves was the wife of Chester E. Graves, a district manager of a DuPont subsidiary. Besides her husband, she is survived by two sons, Major Harold K. Graves, US army, now serving in Korea and John M. Graves of Richland, Washington, and two daughters, Mrs. Marjorie Erieson of Santa Maria and Mrs. Marilyn Roberts of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. She is also survived by nine grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted from the White Oaks chapel in San Carlos; interment was to be at Alta Mesa Memorial park.

Frank R. Sellman

Frank Raymond Sellman, a resident of Los Angeles who had been visiting his son here for the past six weeks, was found dead at the son's home Monday.

Sellman, who was a retired mechanical engineer, was a native of Nicholsville, Kentucky. He had been at the home of his son and daughter-in-law, Francis and Elise Sellman of 570 Oak Knoll lane. His widow, Inez, also survives him as does a brother, R. J. Sellman of Ohio.

Funeral arrangements were made by the Johnston and Tinney Colonial chapel here.

Services are to be held at 2 p. m. today. The Rev. Floyd Barr, assistant pastor at Menlo Park Presbyterian church, is to officiate. Interment will be at Forest Lawn in Glendale.

Jack-o'-Lantern Sets $1000 Fire

Children attempting to get a preview of what their Jack-o'-lanterns will look like, by taking them into a closet to light the candles in them, resulted in a $1000 fire here Monday night, according to the Menlo Park Fire District.

The fire was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pimentel, 220 Hamilton avenue. The couple's children, Judy, 4, and Douglas, 6, are the ones who wanted to try out their Hallowe'en gadgets a wee bit early.

Firemen arrived in time to keep the blaze from escaping from the closet in which it started, but not before an estimated $1000 damage was done, according to Assistant Chief and Fire Marshal Edwin Wickstrom.

BAZAAR MERCHANDISE

Sequoia Hospital Auxiliary:

Workshop Creates Gift Items For Nov. 5 Holiday Bazaar

Sewing bees are not a thing of the past for workshop members of the Sequoia hospital auxiliary, who gather together once a month at each other's homes to start some handmade project, be it toy or apron, handbag or slippers.

Results of these monthly sessions, not to mention the hours at home spent on the craft, will be among the merchandise offered for sale next Friday, November 5, at the auxiliary's first Holiday Bazaar (which they hope will become annual).

The bazaar, to feature a tea for the revitalization of shoppers, will be held from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m. in the Sequoia hospital doctors conference room. Invitations have been sent to all women's service organizations in the hospital district inviting the members to attend.

The workshoppers have created many wonderful Christmas gifts—potholders (which could be used as puppets) made to resemble Cecil the Seasick Serpent; handknitted baby sweaters; bright and sparkly Christmas stockings, for which orders will be taken, and other novelties especially appropriate as gifts.

Mrs. Mark Ryan is chairman of the workshop.

Besides the handmade merchandise, there will be many toys and dolls for sale as well as a full stock of dollar items and little things to fill stockings with. Jewelry, stationery and presents for the whole family will also be featured.

The conference room will be beautifully decorated as a setting for the bazaar.

Bellarmine Guild Sets Annual Dessert Bridge

Mrs. Richard Perry of Menlo Park, president of Bellarmine guild, has announced that the annual fall dessert bridge will be held this year on Wednesday, October 27, at 1:30 p. m. in the school gymnasium.

Mrs. John Pattock, vice president, has been appointed chairman of this main fall fundraiser, assisted by a corps of enthusiastic workers.

An unusual pink and purple color scheme will be used to transform the gym into a suitable setting, and table decorations in the same note will be carried out by Mrs. Val Hengehold. Past presidents of the guild will be on hand to form the reception committee, while freshmen mothers will assist in seating the guests.

Mrs. A. G. Faul of Menlo Park is in charge of ticket sales for this area; anyone wishing to reserve a place at the bridge table may call her at DA 3-0496.

Party Last Night Opens First Year For Ladera PTA

Tentative plans for programming and fundraising at Ladera school have been announced by the PTA executive board.

Increasing the school library seems to be the number one task ahead for the parent-teacher association. Starting with nothing the first year (books or money), the library by June had grown to 400 carefully selected volumes obtained from funds raised in various ways and by direct book contribution; but the need is still great.

Last year a committee of mother-volunteers processed the books; more of these workers are needed this year, too, and are urged to sign up immediately.

As one way to raise money for the library, James W. Holmes, ways and means chairman, has proposed sponsorship of Saturday afternoon movies again.

Last night at Ladera all parents and children were invited to a "get acquainted" coffee and dessert party in the multipurpose room. A brief business session served to introduce the 1954-55 PTA officers and chairmen, who will enter into the association's first full year.

Mrs. Ray L. Choclat is president, assisted by Mrs. Edward Simmons, vice president; Mrs. L. Daniel Kauffman, secretary; Vern Hefte, treasurer; Mrs. Don W. Morris, auditor and Mrs. Marvin Chodorow, parliementarian.

Chairmen include Mrs. Don W. Anderson, membership; Mrs. George O. Argall, room mothers; Mrs. Robert C. Connell, publicity; Jim Holmes, ways and means; Mrs. Richard P. Howell, hospitality; Mrs. Hans G. Bakke, Miss Eleanor Myers and Miss Colette Quement, teacher representatives and Mrs. Elmo Hayden, Newsletter editor.

In the future, the PTA has tentatively planned a November 17 family potluck dinner and a December 17 Christmas party and program put on by the students.

Mothers to:

MODEL RUMMAGE

"Wear your rummage and promenade," read the announcements of today's meeting of St. Joseph's school Mothers' club.

This unusual request was not prompted by Hallowe'en, but by the need for more donations for the club's rummage sale to be held November 4 and 5 at Central school.

Following the promenade during which members will shed their rummage articles, Mrs. T. J. Brennan, president, will preside over a brief business session.

Then in order to give the mothers a "look-see" at the choice merchandise to be offered at the sale, Mrs. Brennan will act as commentator during a fashion show featuring a variety of ensembles from hip boots to cocktail dresses and evening wraps.

Hostesses for the tea will be eighth grade mothers Mrs. M. J. Felciano, Mrs. Henry M. Leicester, Mrs. J. E. Delaney, Mrs. John Zafferano, Mrs. Harry B. Morey, Mrs. H. G. Himmelman, Mrs. A. M. Van Epern and Mrs. Guilford Congdon.

Pat Gallagher Takes Part In U. of Oregon Program

Pat Gallagher of Menlo Park, it was announced this week, will participate in the University of Oregon's "Frosh Leader program" this year. Pat, social chairman of Hendricks hall, is the daughter of Mrs. Thelma Gallagher of 850 Blake street.

This is the first full year for the leader program at the university; started near the end of spring term last year, activities comprise an orientation program for outstanding freshmen and women. Leaders meet during the year with the various administration and student officials.

Pat is a graduate of Menlo-Atherton high school and plans to major in journalism.

Rodriguez-Morrissey Wedding

At a noon Nuptial Mass conducted Saturday at the Church of the Nativity Aida Theresa Rodriguez of Menlo Park became the bride of Thomas Howard Morrissey of San Mateo.

The bride's gown was an original, one which Aida had designed herself. Created along old-fashioned lines, the dress was a lovely combination of white satin, lace and tulle, a perfect background for the new matron's auburn hair.

The skirt, worn over crinoline, was made from satin and lace in front and yards and yards of ruffled tulle in back. The lace over satin bodice had long sleeves and a high neckline studded with tiny pearls.

WEDDING VEIL

With this Aida wore a full tulle fingertip veil, clasped by a lace and pearl trimmed hat, and carried a prayer book marked with streamers and overlaid with a white orchid.

Anna Rodriguez, the bride's sister, served as maid of honor preceding Violette Morgado, Emily Guerrero, Vicki Buchman and Mrs. Thomas (Donna) Flynn.

The quintette all wore ballerina length dusty blue velveteen frocks fashioned with strapless bodices over which each wore a stole tied in back. Shell pink shoes, blue velveteen hats and pale pink carnations completed their ensembles.

Gail Groves, escorted by her brother Ricky, acted as flower girl. Her dress was the same shade of pink as the bridesmaids' accents, and her flowers were blue carnations.

Paul Roberts, a school friend of the bridegroom, was best man, while Allen Montgomery, Don Olsen, Joe Rodriguez, the bride's brother, and Harold Crockard shared usher duties. Xavier Rodriguez, another of Aida's brothers, and Jimmy Masso were the two altar boys.

ORGAN MUSIC

Providing the traditional wedding music was Edna Crane Burchfield.

Father John Cunningham of Serra high school faculty conducted the Mass, and the Rev. Thomas McKeon, the Rt. Rev. Mons. Edwin J. Kennedy, the Rev. James Clark and the Rev. T. Palukaitis were standing at the altar.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ignacio Rodriguez of 879 Partridge avenue, is a graduate of Sequoia high school. She has one sister, Anna, and four brothers, Joseph, George, Xavier, a Hillview student, and Robert, who attends Fremont.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Morrissey of Hillsdale, San Mateo, the bridegroom attended Sacred Heart high school in San Francisco.

The newlyweds cut their cake at Carpenters hall in Redwod City following the marriage ceremony. Before they departed for their honeymoon, Aida changed into a charcoal gray suit with pink and black accessories.

When the couple return, they will establish residence in Belmont.

Before wedding rehearsal on Thursday night, Aida's co-workers at a bank in San Francisco had feted her with a dinner.

Leonora Lorenz And Leon Traun Plan Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Lorenz of East Palo Altoa this week announced the coming marriage of their daughter, Leonora Margaret Lorenz to Leon Robert Truan of Kansas City, Missouri.

The young couple will exchange wedding vows at the East Palo Alto Community church on Sunday, November 21 at 3 o'clock ceremonies.

The bride-elect is the sister of Arlene, Gary and Scarlett Lorenz. She recently graduated from the Mountain View high school. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gauthier.

Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Andrew Wolf and a brother of Craig and Bernadine Truan of Kansas City. He has just been discharged from the U. S. navy.

Club Card Section

Card section of the Menlo Park Women's club meets Tuesday, October 26, at the home of Mrs. C. J. Michelotti, 855 Wallea drive, at 12:30 p. m.

Hostesses for the affair which will feature dessert lunch are Mrs. Julius Pfaff, Mrs. Albert Ittner, Mrs. Peter Boncheff, Mrs. J. A. Buchman, Mrs. W. Theiss and Mrs. Irene Lennon.

SHIRT ON THE WALL

ADMIRING THE DECOR at Saturday's Shirt Off Your Back party are Nike Dean-Turner, chairman for the affair, and Harry Hicks. Large shirts and ties like the one above adorned either side of the bandstand. —Menlo Camera shop

Plan Menlo Park Home:

Phyllis Bliss, Theodore Olson Married Saturday at Stanford

The marriage of Phyllis Bliss to Theodore M. Olson was announced this week by the bride's mother, Mrs. Marie Payne Bliss of Atherton.

The couple were married Saturday in a double ring ceremony officiated by the Rev. Chester Hamblin of Palo Alto. Following the services, which were attended only by the immediate families of the bride and bridegroom, a garden reception was held at Mrs. Bliss' home.

For her marriage the bride wore a ballerina length dress of white lace and a fingertip veil attached to a crown of white flowers and rhinestones. Her bouquet was made of white orchids and stephanotis tied with white streamers.

Mrs. Agnes M. Thompson of Palo Alto was matron of honor, while Margaret Paccioretti of Menlo Park acted as maid of honor and Glee Thompson, Phyllis' godchild, was junior bridesmaid.

ROSE TAFFETA

Mrs. Thompson wore a rose taffeta dress and rose velvet hat; Margaret's light pink taffeta dress was matched with a headband and Glee wore pale pink taffeta with aqua velvet trim and aqua headband. All carried bouquets of carnations in shades of pink to match their dresses.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Godried T. Olson of Palo Alto and the late Mr. Olson, had as his best man Lyle Buchmiller of Los Trancos Woods.

Ushers were Carl W. Olson of Menlo Park, his brother, and George Durfee of Woodside. Everett Olson, another brother, escorted Phyllis to the chancel, and she was given in marriage by her mother.

Mrs. John G. Olson, wife of another of the bridegrom's brothers, assisted with the guest book, while Ted's daughter Jeanne passed the basket of flower petals which the guests showered the newlyweds with as they left on their honeymoon.

GOING-AWAY OUTFIT

The bride's going-away outfit was a dark brown flannel suit with shocking pink lining, brown hat and accessories and stone martin furs. Her sorsage was a white catteleya orchid.

When the couple return, they will reside in Menlo Park.

Phyllis, sister of George D. Bliss III of Palo Alto and granddaughter of Mrs. George L. Payne of Palo Alto, formerly of San Francisco and Atherton, is an alumna of Sarah Dix Hamlin school and a member of the Palo Alto Art club and San Francisco Opera guild.

Ted attended San Jose State college and was graduated from Stanford university. He served with the navy during the last war, and is now an engineer at Moffett Field.

Ballet Guild:

WEDNESDAY TEA

A "kick-off" membership tea next Wednesday has been arranged by the Peninsula branch of the San Francisco Ballet guild at the Lakeview home of Mrs. Ralph K. Davies, Woodside.

Anyone interested in hearing a talk by Mr. Christensen, choreographer for the San Francisco Ballet, and in joining the local group is invited to attend the tea, which will be held at 3 p. m.

Those who are interested in supporting the ballet are asked to call or write Mrs. Harold Bishopp of Menlo Park, membership chairman, before the tea. Mrs. Bishopp's telephone number is DA 2-2651 and her address is 225 Arden avenue.

Mr. Graham-Lujane, business manager for the Ballet, will also be on hand.

Officers for the local branch include Mrs. Sherman Crary of Palo Alto, chairman; Mrs. John Blackinger of Atherton, vice chairman; Mrs. William E. Kratt, Atherton, program chairman and Mrs. Kenneth Lumbard, Palo Alto, treasurer.

League Neophytes Complete Training

Provisional members of the Junior League of San Francisco were "graduated" yesterday following their four week intensive training course presented by the League and the Volunteer Bureau.

The four neophytes from this area were Mrs. John Garrettson Belcher, Mrs. A. H. Brawner Jr., Mrs. Ryland Kelley and Mrs. Edwin A. Seipp Jr.

AAUW music section will meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday; more information may be had from Chairman Mrs. D. C. Jarvis, DA 2-6745.

'Clothesline' From Saturday PV Gathering

Prizes flowed like tears from a crocodile at Saturday night's Shirt Off Your Back party given at the Menlo Circus club. Object of the affair was to supply merchandise for the Peninsula Volunteers' Turnabout shop; the resulting "old clothes" costumes were paraded in the Grand March, then doffed.

Prizes, awarded by the Turnabout marking committee went more or less like this:

Mrs. Theodore Blake took top award for the best costume with her hat-bedecked sheet—question was how (or if) she sat down with the outfit on, since there were as many hats in back as in front.

CLOTHESLINE

The R. D. Kirkpatricks, each bearing the end of a loaded-down clothesline, were given the prize for the most merchandise. Bob Kirkpatrick rolled the separate offerings through a wringer and onto the stockpile. The "most original" man was Harry Brawner, who wore so many layers of shirts and trousers he could have withstood a barrage of blowdarts.

Ann Brawner adhered to the spirit of the invitations by "stripping" down to her bathing suit, discarding MANY items and winding up last in the Grand March. Just as she threw her final garment into the pile, husband Harry dashed over to cover her two-piece bathing suit with a white beach robe.

Nancy (Mrs. Richard P.) Walker looked especially stylish in the very new "boxy" attire—hers was a stunning wardrobe bag filled with clothes and Nancy. She was given the "most unusual" prize for this.

'GUATEMALANS'

The William Fries' II went Guatemalan, representing a native couple en route to the market. Color included a live chicken—named "Peevee"—under Bill's arm and a bright basket filled with clothing. Prize: "Most unusual couple."

Mrs. Leo Rosener Jr.'s mattress-padded form, covered with clothing, won her the title of "funniest woman," while Kingsford Jones' hula skirt made of ties won him the corresponding men's award.

"Mahatma" Gates, all decked out in a tie turban trimmed with pearls earned him the "most beautiful man" honors; his wife wore a matching outfit.

Nike Dean - Turner was party chairman, assisted by Marya Schlesinger and her fellow decorators, who carried out the theme with a liberal sprinkling of large paper shirts and ties and a flashy neon cravat over the bar.

League Unit Sets Premier Program Of Orientation

Provisionals and transfers in the Palo Alto unit of the San Francisco Junior League Inc. will participate in the first local orientation program, to be given at 10 a. m. next Wednesday, October 27.

The program, to be held at Palo Alto community center, will feature talks by Jerry Keithly, city manager of Palo Alto, and Mrs. Harry Caplan of Menlo Park, member of the Sequoia High School District board of trustees.

Mr. Keithly will discuss the organization and special problems of Palo Alto, emphasizing the administrational job differences between a mayor and city manager. Mrs. Caplan's talk will cover the organization of the South San Mateo county school district; where the PTA fits in and the needs of a growing school district.

Following the program, provisionals and transfers will be welcomed at a luncheon at the Atherton home of the unit chairman, Mrs. Harold Barnard.

The idea behind this first orientation activity is to give Junior Leaguers a better understanding of the community in which they'll be doing their volunteer work.

RAVENSWOOD Girl Scout board will meet at 1 p. m. next Friday at the home of Mrs. Warner, 207 Santa Marguerita.

'HAT RACK' TALKS BACK

Area Artists to Exhibit at:

First Peninsula Art Festival Scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 14

Their First Annual Art Festival and Open House is scheduled Sunday, November 14, by Peninsula school students, staff and parents. Designed to show that "Art is Fun!", the event will be staged from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. on the school grounds.

Daniel Mendelowitz and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kahn, prominent artists, will be among the parents and graduates who will exhibit examples of their work at the show.

Mr. Mendelowitz, professor of art and education at Stanford and author of the recent book, "Children are Artists," has exhibited at the Gump galleries, Villa Montalvo, Stanford art gallery and in other shows throughout the Bay Area and the United States. He will loan one of his famed Mexican watercolors.

JEWELRY DESIGNS

Louis Mendelowitz, following in his artist father's footsteps, will show several of his original jewelry designs.

Matt Kahn, assistant professor of art at Stanford, will display one facet of the art and fun theme as he decorates cakes before the festival visitors. Kahn's other specialties include fabric and jewelry design in oils.

Several examples of weaving will be shown by Mrs. Lyda Kahn, art instructor at Peninsula school. Mrs. Kahn has previously exhibited at the De Young museum and San Francisco museum of Modern Art. Both she and her husband have had their designs chosen for the annual Good Design show at the New York museum of Modern Art.

Among graduates who will air their works are Emmy Lou Packard, noted Bay area oil portrait artist, and David Eichorn, 17 year old local jewelry designer who was first inspired in this field during attendance at Peninsula.

STUDENT DISPLAY

The present students will exhibit examples of paintings, ceramics, weaving and other arts and crafts practiced at the school.

In addition, young visitors to the event will be able to indulge their own inclinations in the nursery school rooms, where clay, finger paints and poster paints will be available under supervision.

Demonstrations in weaving, the potter's wheel and stone polishing are also planned, and students will entertain guests with a brief hourly program of songs. Cake and punch will be served.

Mrs. Jack Schneider is general chairman of the festival, assisted by Mrs. Bernard Silber of Atherton. Both extend an open invitation to attend the affair.

Oak Knoll to Aid:

NEW HALLOWE'EN

Oak Knoll PTA is helping to support the "new look" in American Hallowe'ens.

This year, children in the Oak Knoll district have been asked to trade their Trick or Treat bags for milk cartons or jingle jars in which to collect money for the United Nations Children's fund.

The youngsters will be identified by black and orange armbands; they'll pass out special UN insignia picturing a child drinking a cup of milk.

Last year 1349 community groups from every state collected $99,000 on Hallowe'en, and this money aided UNICEF in continuing health building programs in some 80 underdeveloped countries.

Edmond Callendar Claims Gloria Brady In Georgia Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rowand of Atherton are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Mrs. Gloria Brady, to Edmond W. Callander, son of Mrs. Cora Callander of Monterey.

The couple were married October 9 at the First Christian church, Augusta, Georgia. The bridegroom is a private first class in the army stationed at Camp Gordon, Augusta, where the newlyweds will make their temporary home pending army orders.

Both Gloria and her husband attended Stanford university. He was doing post graduate work in chemical engineering following his graduation from the Universi-

Thirteen Menloites Quality Following VA Hospital Course

Thirteen Menlo Park women were among the 75 peninsulans who qualified following completion of the bi-annual indoctrination and orientation course at Veterans hospital.

The course, held October 11 and 12, included discussions and lectures by various members of the hospital staff in two three-hour sessions both in the afternoon and evening. Following lectures on the first day, participants were taken on a tour of the physical medicine rehabilitation rooms. On the second day a film entitled "Within the Town" summed up the volunteer program in a V. A. hospital.

The Menlo Park women who passed the preliminary tests were Mrs. P. J. Dingman, Mrs. D. E. Warner, Mrs. P. K. Homfeld, Mrs. C. S. Howard, Mrs. F. L. Sample, Mrs. Mary Coehlho, Mrs. F. Coelho, Mrs. L. M. Berkey, Mrs. A. E. Gilleece, Mrs. E. M. Hulse, Mrs. L. B. Gross, Mrs. M. Luscombe and Mrs. J. Zerbe.

NEW OFFICE

The Peninsula council of Camp Fire Girls now has an office at 1161 Cherry street, San Carlos. Mrs. Frank Ahlert of Atherton is in charge from 9 a. m. to 12 noon every Monday through Friday.

Under Sponsorship of Encinal PTA:

Ham & Spaghetti Dinner Will Start Ball Rolling at Hallowe'en Carnival

A baked ham and spaghetti dinner served cafeteria style will open Encinal's Hallowe'en carnival scheduled for Hallowe'en Eve, October 30, at the school.

Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Graf, chairmen of the affair, and Mrs. Raymond Peters, dinner chairman, announced that the 5:30 p. m. to 7 p. m. "feed" is open to everyone and tickets may be reserved by calling either Mrs. George Keller, dinner ticket chairman, at DA 2-0455, or Mrs. Joseph Allen, DA 3-1046.

A snack bar will open at 7 p. m. under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gates, refreshment chairmen, whose committee comprises George Keller, the J. M. Tuttles, the Roy Brownings, Neil Horans, Frank Fullenwiders and Donald Ehrmans.

HOBBY SHOW

Youngsters will enter their handicraft exhibits in the second annual hobby show, chaired by Mrs. Milton Monasch. Among the entries expected in the habby room will be photography, art, nature study, stamp and coin collections, wood carving, gardening, science and manual training. Ribbons will be awarded for prize exhibits.

Lions club members will be on hand to judge the funniest and best costumes — the costume parade starts at 8 p. m. following which awards will be made.

The special attraction this year will be the seventh and eighth graders' dance from 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p. m. in the school multipurpose room. Parents, as well as fellow students, are invited to attend, and chaperons will be the eighth grade room mothers including Mrs. Peters, Mrs. M. W. Forsythe, Mrs. Herbert Drescher, Mrs. John Gardiner, Mrs. George Sommers and Mrs. William Platt.

'SPOOK ROOM'

The eighth grade is also sponsoring their exciting "spook room," which proved so spine-tingling in the past.

Special committee workers assisting the Grafs are Mr. and Mrs. Verne Seybold, traffic safety; Mrs. Clay Miller, change booth; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lindsey, decorations and posters; Mrs. Arnold Mason, costume bar; Mrs. Kenneth Palmer, magic show; Mrs. John Tilton, puppet show and Mrs. W. Benson, movies.

The school has made 23 rooms in all available for the carnival.

Chairmen of the various activities which will fill these rooms are Mrs. Gilbert Gamlen, fishing game; Mrs. Raymond White, candle squirt; Mrs. Daniel Mendelson, clown toss; Mrs. Lionel Stephan, apple on string.

Mrs. Joseph Beck, balloon dart; Mrs. M. M. Swenson, drive a nail; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hird, trout fishing; Mrs. Gordon Weber, win a gold fish; Mrs. Walker Baker and Mrs. John Morrison, cake sale.

Mrs. H. J. Mino, bowling game; Mrs. Ralph Hird, penny pitch; Mrs. T. Tripiano, break a record; Mrs. Henry J. Miller, milk bottle game; Mrs. J. Wreble, win a dart. Fathers will staff at least four or five additional games, such as "quarterback club" and "basketball."

Paul Cook Home Setting for Saturday Party

With Adlai Stevenson's rally written down as past history, area Democrats are now looking forward to their candidates' cocktail party this Saturday (not last Saturday as reported) at the Paul M. Cook home, 855 Berkeley avenue, Menlo Park.

Mrs. Cook, president and spokesman for the party hostesses —the Democratic women of San Mateo county—extends an invitation to all interested persons to attend.

The Cooks' lovely modern home is a perfect setting for gatherings —the huge living room, glassed-in on two sides, boasts low, comfortable contemporary furniture. There are two patios as well as the oak tree shaded lawn for the out-of-doors lovers.

Special guests at Saturday's affair will be Dr. Harold F. Taggart of San Mateo, Democratic candidate for the Ninth Congressional district comprising San Mateo county; Frank Groves of Redwood City, 26th District Assembly nominee and James B. Daly of Sharp Park, aspirant for the 25th Assembly district seat.

Localites assisting Mrs. Cook on plans for the party include Mrs. Trygve Elwick of East Palo Alto and Mrs. Fred Achelis of Menlo Park.

December Parties Planned for Miss Dibble and Miss Douglass

By PROXY

Come Christmas season, two local girls, Beverly Douglass and Sarahbelle Dibble, will be feted at gala parties in their honor.

Beverly, who is now attending Mt. Vernon junior college in Washington, D. C., will be honor guest at a dance given for her by her parents, the Elton Tognazzinis of Atherton, at the St. Francis hotel. The party date has been set for December 22.

On December 19 Sarahbelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Dibble Jr. of Woodside, will make her bow at a reception for older friends of the family in the afternoon, followed by an evening of dinner dancing for the younger set.

News from Santa Barbara—On Friday evening winners and holders of grand California champion titles for 1954 were selected in Pershing Park arena during the second round of Blue Ribbon Horse show activities in Santa Barbara.

Irving Kesterson of Atherton, riding the beautiful palomino parade horse, Harvest Supreme, took first prize in the parade horse competition.

Mrs. Arnold Turner Receives Baby Gifts

During the "coffee break" at last week's monthly meeting of chairmen of services, Sequoia chapter American Red Cross, Mrs. Arnold Turner was presented with a gift of pastel colored receiving blankets for the "potentian Red Cross worker" soon to be welcomed into the Turner family.

This was Mrs. Turners' last day on duty at the chapter house where she has been a faithful staff aide all through the summer and early fall months.

Being a Red Cross worker runs in the family, it was pointed out. Mrs. Turner is the daughter of Mrs. Miles Weeks of Menlo Park, chairman of the Motor Corps, and one of the chapter's most hard-working volunteers.

PCTA OFFICE CLOSES FRIDAY

MRS. MELVIN SAVAGE JR. (left) and Mrs. John Brigham (right) are among the Peninsula Children's Theater association members taking season ticket reservations for the three plays to be presented this year. The office at 1024 Alma street, Menlo Park, is destined to close tomorrow, so those who have already ordered their tickets are urged to pick them up, else they will be released. The clown contest will be continued until October 31. The first play of the series to be given in this area will be "The Emperor's New Clothes," staged by the Actors Repertory company directed by Paul Beaudry, on November 13. The second production, "Adventures of Simple Simon," will be given February 5 by the Studio Players directed by Jules Irving. The final play, to be done by PCTA members, themselves, will be offered on March 26, and will be "The Wizard of Oz." Two performances—one at 10:30 a.m. and one at 2 p.m.—will be given for each play at Sequoia high school auditorium.

Hallowe'en Theme For Lodge Meeting

"Hallowe'en" is the theme for tomorrow's monthly social meeting of Queen Elizabeth lodge, Order Daughters of St. George. Members will gather at 8 p. m. in Carpenters' hall, Redwood City.

Among those serving on the party committee is Mrs. James Fiske of Menlo Park; she is also the one to call for information on membership in the lodge — at DA 3-2076.

A colored picture of Queen Elizabeth was presented recently to the group by Mrs. G. A. Wheeler and Miss Winifred Cobbe; the picture had been sent to Mrs. Wheeler by her sister, Mrs. Ellen Yates of Gloucester, England.

PAT GALLAGHER, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Gallagher of Menlo Park, was recently pledged to Delta Delta Delta sorority at the University of Oregon.

Daytime Group Of YW-Wives Newly Formed

A newly-formed daytime YW-Wives club will hold its second meeting next Wednesday at the Palo Alto Young Women's Christian association, 325 Waverly street.

Of special interest to the young wives and mothers should be guest speaker Mrs. Bruce Thompson's discussion on "Creating the illusion of beauty." Mrs. Thompson, beauty consultant, will stress food in its relation to beauty and give hints about wardrobe.

Anyone wishing further information about the club, transportation or the nursery service to care for children during the meeting, may call Miss Jerry Morriil, program director, at YW offices, DA 5-3209.

The new club was formed to provide area wives a chance to get acquainted and enlarge their interest through speakers and demonstrations.

The young adult groups of the YMCA are planning their annual Harvest Ball November 6 from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. at Palo Alto Community center. Everyone is invited.

For New Designing Job Mrs. J. Bregman Leaves

Mrs. Julius Bregman of 700 Menlo Oaks drive has already left for Portland, Oregon, where she will take over the post of head designer for White Stag manufacturers of women's wear.

Mrs. Bregman, who was formerly head designer for Coret of California, was born in the Balkans and educated at the Sorbonne.

Legion Party:

FOR CHILDREN

The annual East Palo Alto American Legion Post 472 Hallowe'en party for area children will be held from 2 to 5 p. m. Sunday, October 31, it was announced today by chairman Mike Capuano.

Limited to children 12 or under, those attending must wear costumes. Small children must be accompanied by parents.

A program of entertainment, refreshments and costume parade has been planned. Prizes will be given for the best costumes.

Pythian Sisters' Dinner Postponed to October 30

Pythian Sisters of Palo Alto Temple 70 have postponed their smorgasbord, originally to be given last Monday, until October 30.

Otherwise, plans remain the same and everyone is invited. The evening will feature, besides a smorgasbord dinner, twelve tables to celebrate birthdays of all the guests and entertainment by some of the Pythian Sisters.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p. m. in Pythian Castle hall, 2031 Euclid avenue, East Palo Alto.

Westminster Women

The Westminster women of the Menlo Park Presbyterian church will hold an evening meeting at 7:30 p. m. tonight instead of the usual luncheon meeting.

Dessert will be served, following which an important business meeting and program, the latter conducted by Mrs. Don Emerson Hall, will take place.

They've Been Busy!:

Girl Scouts, Brownies

Scouting around at the different schools, it looks as though Girl Scout activities have gone into full swing for the new year.

At Encinal 50 Girl Scouts from Troops 7, 105 and 115 and their mothers travelled by chartered bus Monday afternoon to see the opera "Rigoletto." Returning home the girls sang Scout songs under the direction of Mrs. James Aced.

* * *

Fremont Brownies from Troop 110 held their first meeting Tuesday during which time they made place mats for old people's homes. Mrs. Robert Howell is leader, assisted by Mrs. Louis Matas, co-leader.

* * *

Troop 282, fifth grade intermediate Scouts from Hillview school held their initial meeting with a swimming party at the home of Mrs. R. E. Rosentrater, troop committee chairman.

Highlight of the afternoon was a comedy swim playlet starring Sandy Roth, troop chairman, and Robbin Rosentrater, scribe. Other officers elected for the year were Karen Kimball, treasurer; Patricia Patterson, song leader; Charlotte Hayes, game leader and Dorothy Burton, publicity chairman.

Other members of the troop are Lynn Goodrich, Susan Henderson, Carol Johnston, Janice Mathison, Shirley McLaren, Polly Raffel and Sally Sjostrom. Mrs. C. E. Burton is troop leader and Mrs. D. R. Pattersoi, co-leader.

* * *

Fifth grade Brownie Troop 162 from Oak Knoll school was recently reorganized with Mrs. W. R. Bentley relieving Mrs. Robert Fenn as leader. Mrs. Howard King and Mrs. John Chaput replaced Mrs. Erwin Mitchell as co-leader,

The girls divided into patrols with Renee Chaput acting as leader of Cottonwood patrol comprising Linda Abrott, Vicki Bentley, Gillian Chadwick, Claudia Claussen, Nancy Fenn ad Sharon Lea.

Karen Okel is acting leader of Shamrock patrol whose members are Sue Jane Brewer, Anne Fehring, Donna King, Wendy Lea, Carol Mitchell Susan Myers and Barbara Power. Nancy Fenn and Carol Mitchell are to act as treasurer and secretary, respectively.

Brownie Troop 283 (fourth graders) is led by Mrs. G. D. Bradner with Mrs. M. V. Musy, co-leader. The troop continued their Indian study with a visit to Stanford museum last week.

Those in on the trip were Nancy Bradner, Adrienne Gloss, Karen Fienke, Robin Mitchell, Claudia King, Judy Whitely, Michele Musy, Marlowe Hadler, Barbara Williams, Betty Williams, Patty Power and Carol Skinner.

Troop 43 has been divided into three patrols, all making Christmas ornaments and toys. Judy Grover is president; Wendy Ford, vice president; Barbara Blagen, treasurer and Connie Vucinich, scribe. Mrs. George Ford is leader, assisted by Mrs. Wesley Smith.

Mrs. Robert Eldredge leads the patrol consisting of Judy Klein, Janet Eldredge, Sally Newport, Susan Smith and Helen Johnson.

Mrs. Orellana's patrol members are Wendy Ford, Judy Grover, Donna Gay Rossiter, Lynne Johnson, Olga Orellana, Barbara Blagen and Linda Garcia.

Mrs. Yearing's patrol includes Georgie Bryson, Jane Burns, Kaylee Hankland, Kathie McDaniel, Connie Vucinich and Susan Faulkner.

Sequoia Area Scouts To See Special Show Of 'This Is Cinerama'

A special performance of "This Is Cinerama" has been arranged just for Girl Scouts and Brownies in the Sequoia Area council. The program committee, in cooperation with the management of Cinerama, has set Saturday, November 13, at 10:30 a. m. as the time for the showing.

Buses have been chartered to take the girls up to San Francisco and back; transportation will leave Mezes Park, where buses load for Woodhaven, at 9 p. m. and will return around 2:30 p. m. Mezes Park is on the corner of Allerton and Standish streets in Redwood City.

Troops planning to attend have been asked to mail a form, accompanied by check or money order, to the Orpheum Cinerama theater. Each girl is asked to bring along a nosebag lunch, which will be eaten in the bus on the way home.

Brownies and Scouts have also been requested to wear their uniforms if possible; otherwise, school clothes are appropriate.

Seat reservations on the bus must be made by Wednesday, November 3.

United Church Women Present Saturday Tea

Peninsula groups of the United Church Women are sponsoring a tea Saturday at the First Baptist church, corner of Bryant and California streets, in Palo Alto.

The 2 p. m. affair will honor Mrs. James D. Wyker, national president of the United Church Women, and will present her in one of a series of lectures she is giving in Northern California on the recent Assembly of the World council of Churches in Illinois.

All interested persons are invited to attend, and those driving from Menlo are advised to turn left on California at the signal and watch for the slender spire of the church, which may be seen a few blocks in advance.

James C. Brawner Christened Sunday

James Coleman Brawner, youngest son of the A. H. Brawners Jr. of Atherton, was christened Sunday at Holy Trinity Episcopal church. Mrs. John Wickett was godmother and Kenneth Shepherd, godfather.

Following the christening, the Brawners held a family gathering at their Elena avenue home.

Besides Jim, the couple have two sons, Bill, 5, and Brandon (Brandy), 2½. Grandparents of the youngsters are Admiral and Mrs. George Lowry of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Alexander H. Brawner of Hillsborough.

THE Melvin Savages Jr. are entertaining this evening before the Circus club's Mexican dinner.

'COLLEGE NIGHT'

Annual College Night at Menlo-Atherton high school is scheduled for 8 p. m. next Wednesday. Local parents and those from other high schools will have a chance to talk with various college representatives.

Hillview PTA To Hear Panel Tuesday Night

Parents of Hillview school are reminded that the October general PTA meeting will take place at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the multipurpose room.

The program will feature a panel of four qualified local residents, who will present the school district's problems and possible solutions, including double sessions and the outlook for another school bond election.

Mrs. Ben Voss, program chairman, notes that Hillview PTA's theme this year will be "Good schools are the parents' responsibility," and Tuesday's offering is designed to explain why Menlo's schools are overcrowded, what the school board has done about it, what can still be done and what the parents must do if they want their children to have ample school facilities.

The panel of four comprises Mrs. Phyllis Campbell, president of the school board of trustees; Dr. Russell Kent, professor of education at Stanford; James H. Black, member of the school board and Lyle E. Cook, chairman of the citizens' committee now studying the district's needs.

DEADLINE for AAUW members to get their name into the 1954-55 yearbook is October 31.

THREE 'ARTISTS' MODELS'

CHARLENE CIARDELLA (left) and Della Hurlbut (center), of Menlo, with Adrienne Provan (seated) are three of the seven "Artists' Models" chosen for presentation at the October 22-23 Artists and Models carnival. The affair, to be given by the Palo Alto Art club, will feature games, prizes, fish ponds, movies, music and refreshments at the Art clubhouse, 855 Cowper street. Doors will be open from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. according to General Chairman John La Plante. The seven "Artists' Choice" models were selected by four prominent local artists for their paintibility. —Richard Muffley photo

Around Town:

Scratch the Surface and You'll Find---

By MAGGIE MOORE

Scratch a neighbor — you may find a talented musician underneath. He or she may take the same commuter train or arrive at the same office with you but unless you know him well — you wouldn't realize how involved he is with this great love.

Around our town there are several whom we know who, while their regular activities may demand varied talents of another sort, spend most of their free moments pursuing this talent for music.

Let us introduce just a few. Jack and June Case of Menlo Park, for instance. Married just a bit over a year this couple first met through their mutual love of music and their active participation in several groups on the peninsula.

ORCHESTRA MEMBERS

Both are members of the Peninsula Symphony orchestra. Not only that, they play with Henry Holt's Palo Alto string sinfonietta.

When not occupied with rehearsals and concerts for these organizations, they join other musically minded friends in string quartet—or quintets—or even octets!

They are apt to phone other musician friends on a Sunday afternoon and invite them to come over for supper and an evening of music. Not just records, although sometimes these are included, but the actual playing.

The Cases and other musicians who have the fortunate combination of talent and training are never at a loss for an evening of enjoyment. They need only to arrange a meeting time and then play together.

DURING THE DAY

During the day—the breadwinning time? Well, Miss Frances Fisher, also of Menlo Park, who plays viola, is a teacher in the Redwood City school district. Jack Case is employed at a peninsula electronics firm—but plans eventually to devote his time to teaching violin.

His wife, an advertising career girl, with experience in New York the midwest and San Francisco is looking forward to a day when she can concentrate on portrait painting. Meantime she is active in advertising circles doing a variety of things from newspaper ads to window displays.

Musicians, whether professional or avocational, seem to have their own way of knowing one another. Through the various organized groups on the peninsula they are able to make contacts over a wide area. One of the Cases' good friends is a young Los Altos homemaker who gave up her professional career as a 'cellist to raise her young family.

'LITTLE' DINNERS

According to June Case, it is husband Jack who is the gourmet of the family and who seeks out the interesting features of the "little" dinners or informal buffets which begin an evening of music at their home.

The informal suppers usually are served out of doors when weather permits and features the Cases 'special shish-kabobs. These are not limited to the traditional lamb according to June, but involve different sauces for the barbecuing and never-ending experiments with "what can go between the chunks of meat." Indoor meals or the informal order range from toasted cheese sandwiches—sometimes out of the ordinary cheeses too—to a variety of hot hors d'oeuvres.

When a group meets at the home of a musician whose wife is not a musician but rather a "listener-appreciater," she usually has prepared a real buffet spread. But for the most part, if everyone present plays food is often secondary.

HOT DRINKS

That is when a repertoire of hot drinks, suitable for passing hot and steaming from earthenware mugs along with a basket of donuts or toasted sandwiches, come in handy. No one wants to have to stop playing so that a lengthy meal preparation can go on!

We mentioned the hot, steaming drinks, for instance mulled cider, because this is fall and football time and hot drinks "belong." We certainly don't exclude the variations on cool summer drinks for warmer weather.

Netx week we shall explore the gourmet workings of Jack Case's mind — with his permission of course, and will try to give you a run-down on "what musicians (and other folk) like to eat" while doing it.

Church Auxiliary Meets At Canterbury House

Canterbury house, 1176 Emerson street in Palo Alto, will be today's 11 a. m. meeting place for members of the Woman's auxiliary to Holy Trinity Episcopal church.

The session was planned there to familiarize auxiliary members with the new quarters for college students; Beth Young, college representative, has invited the local group to hold their luncheon and meeting there.

Mrs. R. Gordon Mitchell and Mrs. Cleve Rice will serve as hostesses, and the program will feature Miss Young and other college students on "What Canterbury means in the life of the Church."

Sewing, Knitting Group To Meet on Wednesday

The sewing and knitting section of the Menlo-Atherton Newcomers' club will meet at 11 a. m. next Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Harry Meggraft, 565 Kenwood drive. Members are asked to bring a sandwich, and the hostess will furnish coffee.

Since some of the members find it hard to attend so early in the morning, the group would like them to come at lunchtime if 11 a. m. is too early. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Medcraft at DA 3-0778.

BPWC ARRANGES 'GUEST NIGHT'

It's "Guest Night" next Tuesday for members of the Menlo Park Business and Professional Women's club. Cocktails will precede 7 p. m. dinner at the Red Cottage, and special speaker will be George Cleese, Helen Sullivan, public affairs chairman, has arranged the evening's program.

Little House Director To Attend Conference

Little House Director Mrs. Arnold Scheier will attend the November 11-12-13 Northwest institute on Serving the Needs of Our Aging Population at the University of Washington at Seattle.

Mrs. Scheier will serve on the panel concerning "Community services designed to meet problems of aging" at the first general session. The institute will also feature talks by several experts and will present the best current thinking on a total preventative program for aging.

MEMBERS of the Junior League of San Francisco will hold their general meeting at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow in Peacock court, Hotel Mark Hopkins.

ON Hallowe'en eve, members of Willow school Girl Scout Troop 252 are having a party — in costume — for all their fellow Girl Scouts in the fifth grade. The affair will take place from 7:30 to 9 p. m. at the school.

Portola's Hallowe'en Festival To Help Improve Grounds

Among the area PTA's presenting dual-purpose Hallowe'en carnivals this year is Portola, whose event is scheduled for Saturday, the 30th, on school grounds, the latter to benefit from the many fundraising booths.

Mrs. Jack Taylor is general chairman of the festival, and says that everyone is invited to attend. Activities will start at 3 p. m. and last to 9 p. m., with the costume parade set at 6 p. m.

Some of the activities planned include a "spook room" under Mrs. William Hooker's supervision. And, if weather permits, young visitors will have a chance to ride the donkey lent by Mrs. Albert Throndson.

'WHITE ELEPHANTS'

Mrs. J. R. Kiely's "white elephant" booth will feature new merchandise too — plants and sacks of fertilizer donated by Roger Reynolds nursery and plant food and charcoal from Mr. Taylor.

A fishing booth — with colored tin fishes and magnetic poles—is in the hands of Mrs. William Tiedemann and Mrs. Leroy Parks.

Mrs. Glenn Wade plans to convert herself into a "grab bag" for the occasion by pinning little bags filled with toys to a "tramp" outfit—children will give her a ticket and choose the bag they want.

"The name's the same" booth, run by Mrs. Edmund Buckley, will feature slips with names on them tacked to a board. Guests will get three slips, and if one matches their name, a prize too.

FORTUNE TELLER

Mrs. Jeane Mueller will serve as fortune teller; Ray Garraissino who is setting up booths and decoration, will man a penny throw game with his wife; Arnold True is in charge of nail counting and Mrs. Ernest Farrell has the bean count for which Mr. Tiedemann has donated a plant as prize.

Mr. Taylor and William Huebsch are the hotdog barbecue chefs; Mrs. Allan Penny and Mrs. John Miller are in charge of hot cider and doughnuts, while Mrs. Wayman Avery and Mrs. Robert Terwilliger have the popcorn and candied apple booth.

Working on posters, publicity and decorations is Mrs. Victor Thompson.

CHS Presents:

MONDAY READING

Miss Ada R. Beveridge will present her inimitable reading of the "Four Poster" next Monday at the first in a series of benefit programs sponsored by the Menlo-Atherton chapter of the Children's Home society.

The event will start off with coffee at 10 a. m. in the Menlo Park fraternal building on Roble avenue. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the chapter or by calling EM 6-8233 or DA 5-2311.

Mrs. George Sommers of Atherton is chairman of the program, assisted by Mrs. James S. Baker of Atherton, ticket chairman.

EPA JUNIORS

East Palo Alto Junior Women's club members learned about the pros and cons of the propositions on the November 2 ballot last Tuesday evening when they met in the new Women's clubhouse on Bay road.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Clyde Walker, vice president of the Menlo Park League of Women's Voters.

What's Doing Among Menlo Park Teen-Agers

Jo Booth DA 3-1909
1220 Sevier Avenue, Menlo Park

"Sousa!" was the battlecry, so to speak, of 100 bands and 200 majorettes when they gathered at the University of California to celebrate the composer's 75th anniversary.

We'd love to mention everyone in the band, but with 55 to 60 members . . . well. Anyway, we will name the drum major, Margaret Goodlive, and the majorettes, Diane Ackerman, Barbara Stellman, Sue Bie and Elizabeth and Patsy Gullison, who attended.

They rose early (early at least for a Saturday morning) and took off for Berkeley at 8:30. Arriving at 10, the group split up and practiced with other bands and majorettes.

When 12 rolled around, every one went out for lunch, then back to Cal again for the game. During the half time, the bands performed, then finished off with "Sousa" surrounded by two treble clefs formed on the field!

A very enjoyable day!

* * *

Our game (cheer cheer) turned out to be a real inspiration to party givers! Two parties were given before, and one after!

Lirda Blanchard was hostess to the first, with invitations extended to Sally Davenport, Pat Christian, Sylvia Galley, Ione Knight, Louise Stapleton, Joan Starkweather and Phyllis Gates. The event was a dinner (yummy yum-yum!), then off to the game, then back to Linda's for refreshments.

The other BTG party (Before The Game—ha ha) was organized by the Bow-Tie Tri-Y, and was held at the home of Carolyn Welz. It was potluck, and the girls supplied talking, pounding on the player "pianner" and acrobatics as well as food.

Numbered among those present were Joanne Broeren, Lynn Nicholas, Lynne Makler, Ann Bartells, Alice Taylor, Merry Davenport, Jo Booth, Bittle Rhoades, Carolyn Duniway, Arline Cottrell, Nancy Parrish, Lois Martin and Jacque Cook.

After the game, Anne Duniway Marge Fitzmaurice, Barrie Blair, Bunny Clark and Nancy Achilles dropped in (a figure of speech) at Connie Brown's for a slumber party. Listening to the radio, talking and eating took up the time until about 2, when, in Connie's words, "we went to bed kind of early." Up later, too—around 10!

* * *

"A real terrific dance and dinner" highlighted the recent Jr. Statesmen of America convention at Burlingame, with Marlene Balough, Evelyn Hodges, Margaret Roehr, Bill Boorman, Eugene Polianov and sponsor Mr. Di Franco singing its praises. They elected regional officers, and made plans for the state convention, coming up in November.

* * *

How are you fixed for 1) blades, 2) parties? If we've missed yours, call us!

* * *

This past weekend several girls spent two days in Santa Cruz enjoying swimming on the beach, hiking along the rocks, and rides along the boardwalk.

Guests of Betsy Winnburg were Donna Gaylord, Susan Dunne, Mignon Carroll, Lindsay King and Pat Herteau.

PT—Mo: Who was that ladle I saw you out with last night?

Jo: That was no ladle, that was my knife!

(That's pretty bad).

Gladys Adelman Takes Gavel of Credit Women

Mrs. William (Gladys) Adelman, a "9 a. m. to 5 p. m." newcomer to Menlo Park, was installed as president of the Credit Women's Breakfast club of Redwood City Tuesday night at the Pioneer hotel in Woodside.

Assisting Mrs. Adelman for the year will be Mrs. Lillian Clayton, vice president; Mrs. Glenn Lea, secretary and Miss Martha Valenti, treasurer. Mrs. Ann Ravoji, past president of the Palo Alto club, served as installing officer.

Miss Gail Goins accompanied herself on the accordian as part of the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. Adelman and her husband Bill just recently took over a restaurant here on El Camino Real.

Nancy Lee Walker To Appear in Show

Nancy Lee Walker, 1337 Hillview drive, will be a featured artist in "Lillian Keeber's Dance Caravan," to be presented Saturday morning and evening at Central auditorium in San Carlos.

The production will have two "runs;" they will start at 10:30 a. m. and 8:30 p. m.

Sponsor of the show is the Junior Matrons' organization an affiliate of the San Carlos Community church.

Tripp Guild to Hear About HS Bond Issue

Highlight of next Thursday's meeting of the Addie Tripp guild of Woodside Village church wil be a talk on the proposed $6,250,000 bond issue by a speaker from the Sequoia Citizens' council.

Following the 1:30 p. m. meeting in Guild Hall, Mrs. Fred Hawkins and Mrs. Alden Smith will serve as hostesses during a social hour.

Two Localites Initiated Into Fleet Reserve Ass'n.

Seven new members— two of them from Menlo Park—were initiated last Thursday into the ladies auxiliary of the Fleet Reserve association, Unit 101, of Santa Clara Valley.

Mrs. William E. Pattini and Mrs. J. M. Kilpatrick were the two localites who became new members as part of the unit's annual membership drive destined to continue until January.

Other local persons who attended the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Chasin and Mrs. Alice Burton of Menlo Park and Mr. and Mrs. "Dutch" Lichtendahl of Atherton.

Menlo Park Bethel Holds Inspection

Inspection and a mock initiation were the keynotes of the last meeting held by Bethel 242, Job's Daughters, of Menlo Park. Mrs. Effie Johnston, grand deputy of the state of California, was the guest of honor.

Plans for another cake sale, to be held October 23 at Dudley's Kitchen delicatessen, were made and ideas for the following months suggested. The latter included carol singing for the old people's homes, and selling Christmas cards.

Refreshments and entertainment completed the meeting.

St. Francis Guild Plans Barn Dance

The enthusiastic turnout for the Paris in Spring dance last May has prompted the St. Francis Junior Guild to hold another dance on November 13 at the Carpenters' hall on Middlefield road in South Palo Alto.

Theme this time is "Bring 'em in Gingham," which naturally means a good old barn dance where the fellas can relax in jeans and the gals in ginghams or dance to smooth music in a barnyard atmosphere.

GARDEN section of the AAUW will gather at 1:30 p. m. today with Mrs. John Burns, 185 Garland drive. Members are asked to bring perennials or any other plants to exchange.

Dietitians Invited To Meet at Hospital

To all dieticians and home economists in this area Palo Alto hospital extends an invitation to attend the first fall meeting slated for next Wednesday at the hospital. Coffee will be served at 7:30 p. m., preceding the 8 p. m. conclave.

Dr. Oliver Byrd of the department of hygiene, department of education at Stanford, will be the guest speaker.
